Alabama Finds Dynamite Cache

Birmingham Area Man
Held by State Agents

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A third white man has been arrested and over 100 sticks of dynamite were found hidden in a wooded area in the continuing investigation of racial bombings.

John W. Hall, 36, of urban Gardendale, was charged with illegal possession of dynamite Tuesday. He posted bond — set at $300 — shortly afterwards.

Robert E. Chambliss, 59, who was arrested Sunday by state investigators, also was free on $300 bond on the same charge. Chambliss posted bond shortly after a habeas corpus hearing in circuit court.

Charles Cagle, 22, of Birmingham, who was arrested with Chambliss Sunday, remained in jail on an illegal possession of dynamite charge pending a habeas corpus hearing today.

Col. Al Lingo, commander of the State Highway Patrol, said Tuesday night that state investigators found 133 sticks of dynamite lying nearby in a wooded area in North Birmingham, just outside the city limits. He hailed the discovery as significant in the investigation of bombings.

"We are stepping in the right direction. We are making progress."

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, former Birmingham minister and president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, charged that the investigation appeared to be "a sham on the part of law agencies, in an effort to soothe the national conscience and placate Negroes."

Shuttlesworth issued a statement criticizing the investigation shortly after a circuit court jury — which included one Negro — found him guilty of parading without a permit on Good Friday and fined him $75.

Judge George Lewis Bailes added a term of 90 days to the fine. Shuttlesworth's attorneys appealed the sentence and he was released under $2,500 bond.

Shuttlesworth noted that his bond was $2,500 while that of the men charged with possession of dynamite was $300.

Kennedy OKs Pay Hike for Servicemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed today, with "great pleasure" a bill granting an average 14.4 per cent pay increase to most of the 2.7 million men and women in the armed forces.

In a cabinet room ceremony Kennedy used more than a dozen fountain pens to sign the measure, which will cost the government $1.2 billion a year. It is the biggest military pay boost in history.

Kennedy said that, while he is impressed with new and powerful weapons, he is mindful of the fact that it is men who "manage them, control them, and have the will to direct them."

He said Americans in uniform serve with sacrifice and dedication, and that, on them, "The peace of this world of ours and its security depend in good measure."

Members of Congress from both parties and a sprinkling of high military officers were among the two dozen official witnesses at the ceremony.

After signing the law, Kennedy distributed the fountain pens to the Congress members present.

Congress completed its work Tuesday when the House passed the bill setting up the new military pay scales by a 33-25 vote. The bill set Tuesday for the date of the raise.

Option on Land For New Sewage Plant Approved

Preliminary negotiations for purchase of land for a proposed new sewage disposal plant was approved last night by Circleville Council.

The solons passed an ordinance authorizing the Circleville Board of Public Utilities to enter into an option contract for a site southwest of the city. The measure was carried on a 6-1 vote, with Councilman Boyd Horn voicing the dissenting answer.

The site, deemed most available of several areas considered, is composed of 76.25 acres owned by Alma E. Crites. It is approximately one mile south of the city and about one mile west of Route 23.

Land owned by Frank Bowling borders on the north, land of Mary Marfield on the west, Wacker Development Co. property on the south and Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad land on the east.

TERMS of the option call for Mrs. Crites and her husband George to hold the land until April 1, 1964, with the city exercising ex-

Senate Panel To Eye Taxes

Byrd Group Books
Initial Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee says he may open public hearings next week on President Kennedy's tax cut bill.

Indications are, however, that lengthy committee deliberations and a decision to seek Senate action first on controversial civil rights legislation will delay final congressional action until early next year.

Senate Democratic leaders made plain Tuesday they planned to bring the civil rights bill up for a Senate vote before the tax cut measure which was passed last week in the House.

The civil rights bill is expected to touch off a battle that almost certainly will include a lengthy Southern filibuster against the bill. Thus even if the Senate Finance Committee moves quickly on the tax bill, the Senate would be unable to consider it until it disposes of civil rights.

Byrd, a Virginia Democrat, said Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon would be leadoff witness at the tax bill hearings. His announcement came Tuesday after his committee voted 11 to 4 against a move by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., to speed up hearings.

"It's a very unfortunate decision," Douglas said. "In effect, we will have no tax bill this year."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader and a Finance Committee member, said the committee's vote meant the bill would not be ready for floor action until Christmas.

One factor in drawing out the committee's work, Dirksen noted, is that 75 amendments—most of them rejected in the House—are expected to be offered to the tax measure.

Berbers, Ben Bella Exchange Warnings

ALGIERS (AP)—Berber mutineers manned cannons on Algerian mountain ridges today, vowing to defy President Ahmed Ben Bella even at the cost of civil war. Ben Bella forces announced plans to arm vigilante committees to fight, if necessary with loyal Army troops.

The announcement was made by Hadj Ben Alla, chief organizer of Ben Bella's ruling Front of National Liberation (FLN).

"The vigilante committees will safeguard the revolution and fight against counterrevolution," Ben Alla said.

"If necessary they can fight alongside our Djounouds (soldiers)," Ben Alla said. "They will be formed in every town, every village."

clusive purchase rights to that date. The ordinance authorized the city to pay Mrs. Crites $100 for the contract privileges.

Cost of the land, if eventually purchased, would be $300 per acre, according to the ordinance.

Ervin Leist, public utilities manager, said the Crites land is well beyond flood danger from the Scioto River located on the west beyond another tract of Marfield land.

The utilities boss explained that only 12 to 15 acres would be required immediately for a plant site. However, he recited advantages in case of future expansion and the availability of land to be used as the city sees fit. Another favorable point, he said, is the purchase price on the Crites land, described as costing less than half the price of another site that was viewed.

Leist said the Marfield land also considered, is now entailed in an estate. To obtain it would require condemnation procedure, he noted.

Last night's legislation signaled another step forward in the city's bid to obtain a new disposal plant. A resolution approving preparation of initial plans was adopted by Council in April of this year.

CIRCLEVILLE currently is conducting its sewage disposal operation under a temporary permit granted by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board. This state panel has consistently served notice that the city must further reduce the pollution load discharged into the Scioto River, noting that present facilities here are inadequate.

Temporary renewal permits in the past hinged on improvement measures the city was willing to undertake. It has been pointed out that the city could be held in contempt if it refused to take improvement action as directed by the Ohio Pollution Control Board.

Two improvement proposals were studied here — one for construction of a new plant at a new site and the other for expansion of present facilities. A new plant project was favored, with both Council and the Board of Public Utilities attributing their stand to the advantages of a long range plan rather than a partial expansion of the present disposal operation. Both courses of action came under lengthy debate and study before a decision was reached.

Earlier engineering estimates indicated a new plant will cost in the neighborhood of $950,000. Expansion of present facilities was estimated at $550,000.

Earlier study also disclosed that a new plant proposal could be financed by general obligation, payable from sewerage rentals. This program would require a rate increase of about 2.3 times the existing schedule.

Dominicans Fear Collapse

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Leaders in the Dominican Republic say the country will be bankrupt in three months if the United States and other American nations do not accept the regime that ousted President Juan Bosch.

"From a psychological point of view, maybe we'll last only one month," a high-level government official said in an interview. "Public opinion will deteriorate if we fail to get diplomatic recognition and you might see an uprising inside 30 days. Then we'd get a military dictatorship or a Communist takeover."

Officials in the provisional government, businessmen and foreign diplomats, agree that the Dominican future rests in U.S. hands. No one consented to be quoted by name.

Dr. Jose Antonio Bonilla Atilas, ambassador-designate to the United States, flew to Washington on Tuesday in an attempt to get the Dominican Republic invited back into the family of Western Hemisphere nations and win restoration of $50 million a year in U.S. aid.

8 Red Congressmen Held In Venezuelan Roundup

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt's government says 158 Communists and extreme leftists, including eight congressmen, have been arrested in its crackdown on political terrorism.

The roundup was ordered after a terrorist attack on an excursion train Sunday killed five persons. Planeloads of paratroops arrived in Caracas to reinforce police.

Discrimination To Be Checked

Military Bases Due To Probe Communities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has ordered the armed services to take an exhaustive inventory of any racial discrimination in transportation, education, public accommodations, housing and other facets of life near military bases.

The Associated Press learned today that Assistant Secretary of Defense Norman Paul sent the order for an "off-base equal opportunity inventory" on Sept. 24. He set a Nov. 8 deadline for replies.

"The basic objective is to obtain necessary information for the formulation of future policy," the Pentagon said.

It declined to make public Paul's memorandum to the services on grounds it is an "official working paper."

However, the department did furnish a copy of a three-page inventory form to be filled out by each base command.

The form listed 17 separate major questions and topics Paul wants covered.

It was not said how base commanders would collect the material. Presumably, military personnel will be sent out to make on-the-spot checks in communities surrounding the bases.

In exploring education around bases, the Pentagon directive asks commanders to describe facilities used by military personnel, indicating which are integrated.

Housing is covered in only one question:

"Do white and Negro personnel have equal opportunity for adequate housing off base? If not, give a brief description of the existing conditions."

Commanders were asked to describe segregation practices, if any affecting military personnel and their families in use of such publicly owned or controlled properties as parks, libraries, golf courses and tennis courts.

Sen. Lausche Is Edged in Shout Match

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., threw verbal punches at each other Tuesday in a shouting match apparently won by the senator from Oregon.

The flurry came during Senate debate over the overthrow of President Juan Bosch's Dominican Republic regime.

Morse and Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Ernest Gruening, D - Alaska, demanded that the State Department permanently withhold recognition and U. S. aid to the military junta installed government.

Lausche said the issue wasn't as simple as Morse, chairman of the Senate Inter-American Affairs subcommittee, outlined it and declared:

"We were quick to recognize the Castro regime in Cuba when it was proved Communist." Lausche asked where the protests were then.

"The senator from Ohio doesn't know what he is talking about," Morse fired back, raising his voice. He said he had made a series of speeches at the time blasting Castro.

Lausche sought to interpose but Morse quickly added that the Ohio senator had left the implication no one had protested against Castro. Morse said Lausche "can't get away with a red herring. He shut off Lausche again by refusing to yield further and both were shouting when the flurry ended.

Rhodes' No New Tax Claim Said 'Fraud'

MARION, Ohio (AP) — State Democratic Party Chairman William L. Coleman says Gov. James A. Rhodes' claim of no new taxes "is the greatest fraud ever attempted to be perpetrated upon the citizenry of Ohio."

Coleman, in a speech here Tuesday night, charged the Republican administration with "backdoor taxation."

Coleman said that the proposed $250 million bond issue on the Nov. 5 ballot will cost the taxpayer more than $1 for every $2 expended for capital improvements.

"This is nothing more than backdoor taxation so the administration could fulfill their (six) campaign pledges of no new taxes," Coleman said. "The fact is that this bond issue is a new $250 million tax."

CHS Homecoming Activities Readied

Extra activities are in high gear this week at Circleville High School as preparations get under way for the annual homecoming Friday evening.

Crowning of the Homecoming Queen will take place at a dance in the school gymnasium following the football game with Washington C. H. The dance is sponsored by the Junior and Senior GAA, Key Club and Hi-Y Club.

The queen candidates are Anna Diltz, Doris Van Hoose and Cheryl Wood.

Committees in charge of the dance have invited all students and alumnus of CHS to attend. Music will be provided by The Starbusters Combo, composed of CHS students.

MEMBERS of the dance band are Larry Eccard drums; Larry Plum, trumpet; John Wardell, alto sax; Wayne Winner, alto sax; Eddie Evans, tenor sax; George Grigg, trombone; and Sally Lynn piano.

Homecoming activities will actually begin on Thursday with a bonfire at 7:30 p. m. in the parking lot. The rousing event is sponsored by Tigers cheerleaders.

Preceding the grid contest on Friday, the Booster Club will sponsor a fish supper in the school cafeteria. Proceeds will go toward athletic expenses for the school year.

The Homecoming Queen will be selected from three senior candidates who were nominated by the senior class two weeks ago.

Hurricane Size May Increase

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Hurricane Flora, showing signs of increased intensity and size, churned over central Caribbean shipping lanes north of Venezuela today and threatened southernmost sections of Hispaniola with gale winds.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, said the dangerous storm would pass about 120 miles south of the Peninsula of Barahona, a section of the Dominican Republic jutting to the south, early tonight.

By Thursday morning, the hurricane will be less than 100 miles south of the Haitian peninsula of Presque Isle de Sudouest, the bureau said. The Dominican Republic and Haiti share the island of Hispaniola.

Persons in these areas were warned to prepare for heavy rains and winds up to 55 miles an hour. Gale warnings were hoisted.

Russians Given Report On JFK's Moon Proposal

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda today gave the Soviet public its first news of President Kennedy's proposal 12 days ago for a joint U.S.-Soviet moon exploration effort.

The information appeared in a reprint in Pravda of a recent column by Walter Lippmann praising Kennedy's proposal.

Valachi Clears Old Mysteries

Probers Told How
2 Bosses Eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi today linked Vito Genovese — the man he says now runs a criminal syndicate from a prison cell — to the 1931 violent deaths of two gangland bosses.

Tracing the bloody history of the syndicate known as La Cosa Nostra, Valachi did not name Genovese as the actual killer, but told the Senate investigations subcommittee:

1. The shooting of Giuseppe Massaria, alias Joe the Boss, in a Coney Island restaurant in April 1931 was set up by "Charles Lucky, Vito Genovese and Ciro Terranova."

2. Salvatore Maranzano, gunned down the following September, had been in a meeting that day with Genovese and Charles Lucky.

Massaria and Maranzano at the time were leaders of rival gangs in the New York area. Valachi said Genovese and Charles Lucky, as the mob called Lucky Luciano, were lieutenants of Massaria.

Luciano is now dead. Accused of narcotics and vice rackets, he was deported to Italy as an undesirable alien and died there.

Genovese, convicted on a narcotics charge, is in Leavenworth Federal Prison but according to Valachi still bosses the crime syndicate.

Valachi was serving under Maranzano in 1931, and he related that his boss made a list of rival hoodlums that "we got to get rid of" shortly before he was rubbed out himself.

Valachi said the "Boss of Bosses," Salvatore Maranzano, told him there was going to be another gang war, a "mattress" in the underworld argot, because he "couldn't get along with Charley Lucky and Vito."

Maranzano handed him a list, he said, of men he had marked for execution. They included Al Capone, Frank Costello, Lucky

Columbus Death Gun Said Found

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus police disclosed today that the gun they believe was used to kill Mary Margaret Andrews a year ago was owned by a former Ohio State University student.

The former student, described by detectives as a fraternity man in his early 20s, told police that the gun had been stolen from him.

Ballistics tests conducted in Columbus and by the FBI in Washington indicated that the gun, found in a drain spout near the University a few weeks ago, is the weapon used in the unsolved Sept. 20, 1962 murder.

Miss Andrews, a 19-year-old student at Columbus Business University, was shot to death in a garage near the university.

Once Around Roundtown

THE CITY Police are entering a float in the Pumpkin Show parade this year. . . The officers are working on the project during their off-duty hours and are keeping the design and theme of the float somewhat of a secret. . .

Today Art Wilkins appeared in the city building with an oddly shaped piece of stove pipe. . . It is a part of the float, and the officers did volunteer the information that it would form a scales. . .

The Pumpkin Show is only two weeks away. . .

COMPETITION for Miss Pumpkin Show this year should be keen. . . In previous years most participating schools made their selection for the beauty parade only a few days prior to the event. This year all candidates are to be selected by Friday, thus giving each candidate plenty of time to prepare herself for the judges. The Miss Pumpkin Show Parade will be held 8 p. m. on the opening night of the annual fall festival.

SPECIAL recognition last night went to Mark L. DeLong, long-time city employee who retired this week. . .

City Council adopted a resolution directing special commendation to the city worker. . . He retired as an employee of the City Water Department. . . He had previously been a city fireman. . . Council praised him for his many years of trustworthy service.

There were 120 guests in the state dining room, and the President's official hostess for the evening was his mother, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy.

First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy left for a holiday in Greece Tuesday night before the affair got under way.

Preble County Penthouse Jail Hard To Get Out of, or Enter

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Prisoners at the Preble County jail get a taste of high society living for which many lawbreakers never get a chance — an extended stay in a penthouse.

The penthouse in this case is the jail itself—a structure on top of the four-story courthouse. It looks down not only on the town, but also on the surrounding southwestern Ohio countryside.

But Mrs. John Stover, the sheriff's wife and jail matron, doesn't consider life in the penthouse anything to brag about.

"I guess you'd have to consider it a penthouse," she said, "but none of us ever have time to enjoy it. The inmates and they don't get a very good view, even a bird's eye one."

One time some of the inmates got a good look at the town was a few years ago when several prisoners broke out of the jail. But there was no place to go—no way off the three stories high roof.

"They were caught right there in the roof garden," said Deputy Sheriff Dennis Schweitzer. "I guess it's one of the toughest jails in the country to escape from." It's also hard to get into. The elevator that you can take from the ground floor goes only up to the third floor. That's where the sheriff's office is — and only the sheriff or the deputy on duty can provide the key to the penthouse elevator. There is also a stairway, but it ends with a locked door that bars access to a final flight of stairs.

Half the penthouse is taken up by the Stovers' apartment which has a glassed - in portion that could be used as a greenhouse. But the Stovers don't have time for that. The same goes for the roof garden, which could be fixed up too.

The Preble County courthouse and jail were built soon after the turn of the century for $250,000. The building is of thick cut stone with stained glass windows and marble interior.

And the idea to put the jail on top was a good one—at least Sheriff Stover thinks so.

Coleman, in a speech here Tuesday night, charged the Republican administration with "backdoor taxation."

Coleman said that the proposed $250 million bond issue on the Nov. 5 ballot will cost the taxpayer more than $1 for every $2 expended for capital improvements.

"This is nothing more than backdoor taxation so the administration could fulfill their (six) campaign pledges of no new taxes," Coleman said. "The fact is that this bond issue is a new $250 million tax."

Crime Syndicate Chief Tied to Gang Slayings

Valachi Clears
Old Mysteries

Probers Told How
2 Bosses Eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Valachi today linked Vito Genovese — the man he says now runs a criminal syndicate from a prison cell — to the 1931 violent deaths of two gangland bosses.

Tracing the bloody history of the syndicate known as La Cosa Nostra, Valachi did not name Genovese as the actual killer, but told the Senate investigations subcommittee:

1. The shooting of Giuseppe Massaria, alias Joe the Boss, in a Coney Island restaurant in April 1931 was set up by "Charles Lucky, Vito Genovese and Ciro Terranova."

2. Salvatore Maranzano, gunned down the following September, had been in a meeting that day with Genovese and Charles Lucky.

Massaria and Maranzano at the time were leaders of rival gangs in the New York area. Valachi said Genovese and Charles Lucky, as the mob called Lucky Luciano, were lieutenants of Massaria.

Luciano is now dead. Accused of narcotics and vice rackets, he was deported to Italy as an undesirable alien and died there.

Genovese, convicted on a narcotics charge, is in Leavenworth Federal Prison but according to Valachi still bosses the crime syndicate.

Valachi was serving under Maranzano in 1931, and he related that his boss made a list of rival hoodlums that "we got to get rid of" shortly before he was rubbed out himself.

Valachi said the "Boss of Bosses," Salvatore Maranzano, told him there was going to be another gang war, a "mattress" in the underworld argot, because he "couldn't get along with Charley Lucky and Vito."

Maranzano handed him a list, he said, of men he had marked for execution. They included Al Capone, Frank Costello, Lucky (Continued on Page 2)

Columbus Death Gun Said Found

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus police disclosed today that the gun they believe was used to kill Mary Margaret Andrews a year ago was owned by a former Ohio State University student.

The former student, described by detectives as a fraternity man in his early 20s, told police that the gun had been stolen from him.

Ballistics tests conducted in Columbus and by the FBI in Washington indicated that the gun, found in a drain spout near the University a few weeks ago, is the weapon used in the unsolved Sept. 20, 1962 murder.

Miss Andrews, a 19-year-old student at Columbus Business University, was shot to death in a garage near the university.

CHS Homecoming Activities Readied

Extra activities are in high gear this week at Circleville High School as preparations get under way for the annual homecoming Friday evening.

Crowning of the Homecoming Queen will take place at a dance in the school gymnasium following the football game with Washington C. H. The dance is sponsored by the Junior and Senior GAA, Key Club and Hi-Y Club.

The queen candidates are Anna Diltz, Doris Van Hoose and Cheryl Wood.

Committees in charge of the dance have invited all students and alumnus of CHS to attend. Music will be provided by The Stardusters Combo, composed of CHS students.

MEMBERS of the dance band are Larry Eccard drums; Larry Plum, trumpet; John Wardell, alto sax; Wayne Winner, alto sax; Eddie Evans, tenor sax; George Grigg, trombone; and Sally Lynn piano.

Homecoming activities will actually begin on Thursday with a bonfire at 7:30 p. m. in the parking lot. The rousing event is sponsored by Tigers cheerleaders.

Preceding the grid contest on Friday, the Booster Club will sponsor a fish supper in the school cafeteria. Proceeds will go toward athletic expenses for the school year.

The Homecoming Queen will be selected from three senior candidates who were nominated by the senior class two weeks ago.

The entire student body of CHS

Once Around Roundtown

THE CITY Police are entering a float in the Pumpkin Show parade this year. The officers are working on the project during their off-duty hours and are keeping the design and theme of the float somewhat of a secret.

Today Art Wilkins appeared in the city building with an oddly shaped piece of stove pipe. It is a part of the float, and the officers did volunteer the information that it would form a scales.

The Pumpkin Show is only two weeks away.

COMPETITION for Miss Pumpkin Show this year should be keener. In previous years most participating schools made their selection for the beauty parade only a few days prior to the event. This year all candidates are to be selected by Friday, thus giving each candidate plenty of time to prepare herself for the judges, the Miss Pumpkin Show Parade will be held 8 p. m. on the opening night of the annual fall festival.

Rusk Books Dinner Talk With Russian

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk talks over possible deals with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight in the only strictly U.S.-Soviet meeting scheduled in current East-West discussions.

The dinner meeting at the headquarters of the Soviet U.N. mission gave Rusk his first opportunity here to raise a host of Washington-Moscow issues, including the presence of Soviet troops in Cuba.

Rusk also was expected to inquire into (1) a variety of possible Soviet - American accords, ranging from trade to space cooperation, and (2) the Soviet position on disarmament and political questions posed in the wake of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home conducted the West's first deep probe into the second group of questions in a two-hour lunch at Gromyko's quarters Tuesday.

British sources said neither side gave any ground, though the atmosphere was cordial and Gromyko seemed to want to continue East-West contacts.

Ethiopia Emporer Sees Flapper Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia had a front row view Tuesday night of America's gaudy Twenties — prancing flappers and old vaudeville.

Sitting beside President Kennedy, the Emperor seemed to enjoy the antics of the Robert Jeffrey Ballet Company which provided the entertainment after the White House dinner in the Emperor's honor.

There were 120 guests in the state dining room, and the President's official hostess for the evening was his mother, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy.

First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy left for a holiday in Greece Tuesday night before the affair got under way.

Appeal Is Dismissed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today dismissed, by agreement of the parties, the appeal of Paul and Mae Lipschutz in an injunction case involving men's specialty stores in Washington C.H.

Preble County Penthouse Jail Hard To Get Out of, or Enter

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Prisoners at the Preble County jail get a taste of high society living for which many lawbreakers never get a chance — an extended stay in a penthouse.

The penthouse in this case in the jail itself—a structure on top of the four-story courthouse. It looks down not only on the town, but also on the surrounding southwestern Ohio countryside.

But Mrs. John Stover, the sheriff's wife and jail matron, doesn't consider life in the penthouse anything to brag about.

"I guess you'd have to consider it a penthouse," she said, "but none of us ever have time to enjoy it. The inmates and they don't get a very good view, even a bird's eye one."

One time some of the inmates got a good look at the town was a few years ago when several prisoners broke out of the jail. But there was no place to go—no way off the three-stories high roof.

"They were caught right there in the roof garden," said Deputy Sheriff Stover.

Half the penthouse is taken up by the Stovers' apartment which has a glassed-in porch that could be used as a greenhouse. But the Stovers don't have time for that. The same goes for the roof garden, which could be fixed up too.

The Preble County courthouse and jail were built soon after the turn of the century for $250,000. The building is of thick cut stone with stained glass windows and marble interior.

And the idea to put the jail on top was a good one—at least Sheriff Stover thinks so.

Goldwater Unit Is Organized

The Pickaway County Chapter of Ohioans for Goldwater was organized last night at the Grange and 4-H Building on the Fairgrounds.

D. E. McDonald was named president of the group that is backing Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Arizona) for the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

Other officers named include Vinton Dorsey, vice president; Dorothy Swingle, recording secretary; Laquita Wagner, corresponding secretary; Leon Van Vliet, treasurer.

McDonald said today it is hoped the grass roots, nonpartisan organization will be instrumental in influencing the Ohio Delegation to the National GOP Convention to support Sen. Goldwater.

Those interested in joining the local chapter may contact any of the officers, or by calling GR 4-4291. The group also made plans for a booth at the Pumpkin Show.

Approximately 60 members have attended recent meetings and county membership in recent weeks has surpassed the 200 mark.

The next regular meeting will be 7:30 p. m. Oct. 28, in the Grange and 4-H Building.

Viet Nam Report Going to Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy got a first-hand report today on the military-political situation in South Viet Nam, then called the full National Security Council to review affairs there.

Kennedy met for about an hour with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell

Citizens Lodge Complaint on Dust Problem

A petition seeking action on dust problems in an area along S. Pickaway St., between Mill St. and the N&W Railroad was presented last night to City Council.

The petition was signed by more than 50 residents of the area. Three spokesmen were on hand to present their neighborhood's views.

The petitioners contended the dust is caused by vehicles that travel to and from the Basic Construction Materials firm at 200 E. Corwin St. They said the situation creates a hardship on nearby residents, especially during hot, dry weather.

All three spokesmen requested that the firm be directed to take preventive measures, such as settling the dust with oil or chloride treatment. They commended the materials company for improvements made in the past, but claimed that sufficient action has not been taken on the dust problem.

THE PETITION was referred to 4th Ward Councilman Boyd Horn and the service committee. They said efforts will be made to seek Basic's cooperation in correcting the situation.

In other business, an ordinance seeking approval of a subdivision plat in the Nicholas Drive-Fairview Ave. area was not introduced. The proposal, submitted by the Better Homes Building firm of Columbus, plans for development of 11 residential lots.

The homes would be constructed in an area adjacent to property owned by the Circleville Board of Education. The approving ordinance received no action after Council contended that the plat drawing was not complete and that procedure as outlined by a city subdivision ordinance had not been followed.

The proposal had previously been submitted to the City Planning and Zoning Commission, but Councilmen noted they had received no written notification of approval from that body.

Considerable discussion centered on a street that would divide the subdivision and property that tentatively would be the site for a new high school if the school bond issue is passed here in November. The solons claimed the 32-foot street as shown on the plat would not be wide enough in case the school was constructed.

The Better Homes firm was represented by Attorney Carl Leist.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

Two adults and a juvenile from Columbus were apprehended early today by authorities in Ashland, Ky., driving a car belonging to Bernadine Gillis, 712 Maplewood Ave.

Authorities informed Miss Gillis her car had been recovered. She reported she had noticed it was missing, but did not realize it had been stolen.

According to the Ashland Police Department, the vehicle was taken 11:30 p. m. yesterday. They picked up the trio at 2:50 a. m. today. Being held for the Circleville Police Department are William and Orville Dingess and the juvenile

D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The two had flown back to Washington earlier in the day after a week-long inspection trip to Viet Nam.

After receiving their report — which will form the basis for major administration decisions affecting Southeast Asia—Kennedy called the full security council to a 5 p.m. session to consider the report.

Some of the material presented by McNamara and Taylor was in writing but, for the most part, they gave him an oral report on their tour.

McNamara's report probably will follow the line of previous observations of American officers on the scene. An intelligent guess can be made on its main points.

On the basis of recommendations available before he arrived, McNamara probably will recommend no increase in the force of 15,000 U.S. military men in Viet Nam and no increase in the current $1.5 million daily in U.S. aid.

He may suggest, on purely military grounds, a modest cut in American personnel or U.S. aid in line with known U.S. and Vietnamese suggestions.

He may recommend an increase in fighter aircraft and helicopters. McNamara may tell Kennedy that if U.S. aid was suddenly cut off, Vietnamese forces would have sufficient supplies to operate —after a fashion and with much less mobility—for 6 to 12 months.

McNamara saw no evidence Diem had instituted any reforms —such as Kennedy has been suggesting—since the secretary visited Viet Nam 16 months ago.

He probably will report the political-religious crisis sparked by Buddhist suicides and demonstrations has not had an appreciable effect on the morale of government troops so far, but if the ruthless political tactics continue the situation could become dangerous.

McNamara probably will report the Viet Cong is being pushed back in the central highlands and northern provinces.

Valachi Clears

Luciano, Vito Genovese, Vince Mangano, Joe Adonis and Dutch Schultz—a veritable who's who of crime-dom back in the 1930s.

New York police records show that Masaria was shot in the back and the head while sitting in a restaurant at 2715 West 15 St. in the Coney Island section on the afternoon of April 15, 1931.

Lt. Ralph Salerno of the New York Police Department testified the case is still listed in the active file. He said the police record shows the killers escaped and are unknown.

The early part of Valachi's third day of testimony was largely spent in trying to pin down the identity of Girolamo Santuccio, alias Bobby Doyle, the man he named Tuesday as the trigger man in three 1934 mob killings.

Looking at photographs, Valachi and Lt. John Roach of the Hartford, Conn., police agreed that this individual is a map Roach said now lives in Hartford.

"He hangs around the streets and has no visible means of support," Roach said.

In Hartford, Police Chief John J. Kerrigan said Santuccio had been idle recently, but ran a pizza restaurant until about three months ago.

When Valachi got down to telling about Massaria's slaying, he said that at the time he belonged to a rival gang known as the Maranzano group, and it was waging war with the Masseria group.

But Valachi said it wasn't his group but Massaria's own underlings who gunned Massaria down.

Valachi said "there was peace" between the two mobs after Massaria's murder.

Valachi spent most of Tuesday telling of assassinations and gang warfare back in the 1920 and 30s when hoodlum killers carried their machine guns in violin cases.

The big, crowded hearing room grew hushed as he described his ritual, Mafia-like initiation into the crime syndicate which he calls La Cosa Nostra, "Our thing" in Italian.

"This is my doom... what I'm telling you now," the 60-year-old hoodlum said grimly after relating how he was sworn in with a knife and gun before him, his finger pricked to draw blood and a piece of paper burning in his hand to remind him that he too would be burned to ashes if he broke his oath.

Valachi has told the senators he wants to destroy La Cosa Nostra through his testimony because it exploited rank-and-file members like himself and has marked him for execution as an informer.

He has named Vito Genovese, now in prison as a narcotics racketeer, as La Cosa Nostra's dominant power, and linked Genovese's name with bloody gang wars for power.

Deaths

MR. GEORGE G. CRUM

Mr. George Grant Crum, 56, Lancaster, former Circleville resident, died yesterday afternoon at the Lancaster Fairfield Hospital.

He is survived by the wife, Jo Ann Crum, one stepson, Thomas Lutz, one stepdaughter, Jennifer Lutz of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Jack Edgar, Columbus; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be 10:30 a. m. Friday, at the Frank E. Smith Funeral Home, Lancaster, with the Rev. Harold Sterner officiating.

Burial will be in Forest Cemetery, Circleville. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p. m. Thursday.

Equalization Board Named For North Storm Sewer Job

A resolution appointing an assessment equalization board to hear objections on tentative assessments for the Circleville North Storm Sewer System was approved last night by City Council.

Named to the panel were Fred Watts, Leon Van Vliet and Allen Thornton. They will direct their attention to objections on estimated assessments that have been duly registered with Council.

The board will meet 1:30 p. m. Oct. 30 in the Council Chambers at City Hall. Members then will report their findings to Council.

Other legislation for the evening included passage of six appropriations ordinances. The measures were:

APPROPRIATION of $1,000 from the waterworks operating fund to be credited to the distribution and maintenance account of the same department. The money will be used for operation and maintenance of trucks and for making service connections.

Appropriation of $1,395.41 from the general fund to be credited to the note retirement fund of Sewer District No. 2. The money will be used to pay the city's assessments for the park area in the Garden City Subdivision and for Berger Hospital.

Appropriation of $50 from the general fund to be credited to the incidentals and supplies account of the City Service Department.

Appropriation of $2,000 from the waterworks operating fund to be credited to the pumping account of the same department for purchase of fuel and power.

Appropriation of $200 from the sewer rental fund of the sewage department to be plan account of he same department for the payment of overtime and extra labor.

Appropriation of $250 from monies credited to the Sewer District No. 2 account, to be used for payment of services provided by three members of the assessing board appointed for the sewer project.

Goldwater Denies Hedging Conservatism for Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today those who contend he is hedging his conservatism to angle for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination have not listened to what he is saying.

Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is considered a front runner for a nomination he still insists he isn't seeking, said in an interview that he hasn't changed his position on any fundamental issue in recent speeches he has made in all sections of the country.

"Some of the people who are saying that I am modifying my conservative position just haven't been reading what I have been saying," he said.

"Of course, I think there would be something wrong with any man in public life who didn't change some of his ideas to meet the developments of the time," he added. "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue. But I haven't changed my stand on any fundamental issue and I don't intend to."

About the only concrete example of a shift in position that Goldwater could think of off hand was his conversion to support of the Kennedy administration's proposal to clothe the attorney general with authority to file suits to enforce school integration.

"I opposed that in the past but if the attorney general feels that he needs this authority, then I am willing to give it to him, provided that it is restricted to specific cases and is not used as a blunderbuss."

But Goldwater said he continues to be opposed to the use of federal forces to enforce desegregation except as the President's authority in this field is outlined in the Constitution.

He said this means that the President can send troops where a governor or state legislature request them, to put down an insurrection or rebellion and to enforce a federal court's edict.

But he said he doesn't agree with the Kennedy administration contention that the federal government has a authority to intervene — in the absence of these constitutional provisions—to enforce the general civil rights of any individual.

Goldwater said he wasn't moving toward the center in subscribing generally to remarks made by Gerald K. Skibbins, Princeton, N.J., research executive, who declared that many Americans "squirm when they hear the label 'conservative' because they think of pre-World War II isolationism.

Those interested in joining the local chapter may contact any of the officers, or by calling GR 4-4291. The group also made plans for a booth at the Pumpkin Show.

Approximately 60 members have attended recent meetings and county membership in recent weeks has surpassed the 200 mark.

The next regular meeting will be 7:30 p. m. Oct. 28, in the Grange and 4-H Building.

Viet Nam Report Going to Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy got a first-hand report today on the military-political situation in South Viet Nam, then called the full National Security Council to review affairs there.

Kennedy met for about an hour with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell Taylor.

Citizens Lodge Complaint on Dust Problem

A petition seeking action on dust problems in an area along S. Pickaway, S. Washington and E. Corwin Sts., between Mill St. and the N&W Railroad was presented last night to City Council.

The petition was signed by more than 50 residents of the area. Three spokesmen were on hand to present their neighborhood's views.

The petitioners contended the dust is caused by vehicles that travel to and from the Basic Construction Materials firm at 200 E. Corwin St. They said the situation creates a hardship on nearby residents, especially during hot, dry weather.

All three spokesmen requested that the firm be directed to take preventive measures, such as settling the dust with oil or chloride treatment. They commended the materials company for improvements made in the past, but claimed that sufficient action has not been taken on the dust problem.

THE PETITION was referred to 4th Ward Councilman Boyd Horn and the service committee. They said efforts will be made to seek Basic's cooperation in correcting the situation.

In other business, an ordinance seeking approval of a subdivision plat in the Nicholas Drive-Fairview Ave. area was not introduced. The proposal, submitted by the Better Homes Building firm of Columbus, plans for development of 11 residential lots.

The homes would be constructed in an area adjacent to property owned by the Circleville Board of Education. The approving ordinance received no action after Council contended that the plat drawing was not complete and that procedure as outlined by a city subdivision ordinance had not been followed.

The proposal had previously been submitted to the City Planning and Zoning Commission, but Councilmen noted they had received no written notification of approval from that body.

Considerable discussion centered on a street that would divide the subdivision and property that tentatively would be the site for a new high school if the school bond issue is passed here in November. The solons claimed the 32-foot street as shown on the plat would not be wide enough in case the school was constructed.

The Better Homes firm was represented by Attorney Carl Leist.

Stolen Auto Is Recovered

Two adults and a juvenile from Columbus were apprehended early today by authorities in Ashland, Ky., driving a car belonging to Bernadine Gillis, 712 Maplewood Ave.

Authorities informed Miss Gillis her car had been recovered. She reported she had noticed it was missing, but did not realize it had been stolen.

According to the Ashland Police Department, the vehicle was taken 11:30 p. m. yesterday. They picked up the trio at 2:50 a. m. today. Being held for the Circleville Police Department are William and Orville Dingess and the juvenile

Luciano, Vito Genovese, Vince Mangano, Joe Adonis and Dutch Schultz—a veritable who's who of crime-dom back in the 1930s.

New York police records show that Masaria was shot in the back and the head while sitting in a restaurant at 2715 West 15 St. in the Coney Island section on the afternoon of April 15, 1931.

Lt. Ralph Salerno of the New York Police Department testified the case is still listed in the active file. He said the police record shows the killers escaped and are unknown.

The early part of Valachi's third day of testimony was largely spent in trying to pin down the identity of Girolamo Santuccio, alias Bobby Doyle, the man he named Tuesday as the trigger man in three 1930 mob killings. Looking at photographs, Valachi and Lt. John Roach of the Hartford, Conn., police agreed that this individual is a man Roach said now lives in Hartford.

"He hangs around the streets and has no visible means of support," Roach said.

In Hartford, Police Chief John J. Kerrigan said Santuccio had been idle recently, but ran a pizza restaurant until about three months ago.

When Valachi got down to telling about Massaria's slaying, he said that at the time he belonged to a rival gang known as the Maranzano group, and it was waging war with the Masseria group.

But Valachi said it wasn't his group but Massaria's own underlings who gunned Massaria down.

Valachi said "there was peace" between the two mobs after Massaria's murder.

Valachi spent most of Tuesday telling of assassinations and gang warfare back in the 1920 and 30s when hoodlum killers carried their machine guns in violin cases.

The big, crowded hearing room grew hushed as he described his ritual, Mafia-like initiation into the crime syndicate which he calls La Cosa Nostra, "Our thing" in Italian.

"This is my doom... what I'm telling you now," the 60-year-old hoodlum said grimly after relating how he was sworn in with a knife and gun before him, his finger pricked to draw blood and a piece of paper burning in his hand to remind him that he too would be burned to ashes if he broke his oath.

Valachi has told the senators he wants to destroy La Cosa Nostra through his testimony because it exploited rank-and-file members like himself and has marked him for execution as an informer.

He has named Vito Genovese, now in prison as a narcotics racketeer, as La Cosa Nostra's dominant power, and linked Genovese's name with bloody gang wars for power.

Equalization Board Named For North Storm Sewer Job

A resolution appointing an assessment equalization board to hear objections on tentative assessments for the Circleville North Storm Sewer System was approved last night by City Council.

Named to the panel were Fred Watts, Leon Van Vliet and Allen Thornton. They will direct their attention to objections on estimated assessments that have been duly registered with Council.

The board will meet 1:30 p. m. Oct. 30 in the Council Chambers at City Hall. Members then will report their findings to Council.

Other legislation for the evening included passage of six appropriations ordinances. The measures were:

APPROPRIATION of $1,000 from the waterworks operating fund to be credited to the distribution and maintenance account of the same department. The money will be used for operation and maintenance of trucks and for making service connections. Appropriation of $1,395.41 from the general fund to be credited to the note retirement fund of Sewer District No. 2. The money will be used to pay the city's assessments for the park area in the Garden City Subdivision and for Berger Hospital.

Appropriation of $50 from the general fund to be credited to the incidentals and supplies account of the City Service Department.

Appropriation of $2,000 from the waterworks operating fund to be credited to the pumping account of the same department for purchase of fuel and power.

Appropriation of $200 from the sewer rental fund of the sewage department to be plan account of the same department for the payment of overtime and extra labor.

Appropriation of $250 from monies credited to the Sewer District No. 2 account, to be used for payment of services provided by three members of the assessing board appointed for the sewer project.

Goldwater Denies Hedging Conservatism for Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today those who contend he is hedging his conservatism to angle for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination have not listened to what he is saying.

Goldwater, Arizona Republican who is considered a front runner for a nomination he still insists he isn't seeking, said in an interview that he hasn't changed his position on any fundamental issue in recent speeches he has made in all sections of the country.

"Some of the people who are saying that I am modifying my conservative position just haven't been reading what I have been saying," he said.

"Of course, I think there would be something wrong with any man in public life who didn't change some of his ideas to meet the developments of the time," he added. "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue. But I haven't changed my stand on any fundamental issue and I don't intend to."

About the only concrete example of a shift in position that Goldwater could think of off hand was his conversion to support of the Kennedy administration's proposal to clothe the attorney general with authority to file suits to enforce school integration.

"I opposed that in the past but if the attorney general feels that he needs this authority, then I am willing to give it to him, provided that it is restricted to specific cases and is not used as a blunderbuss."

But Goldwater said he continues to be opposed to the use of federal forces to enforce desegregation except as the President's authority in this field is outlined in the Constitution.

He said this means that the President can send troops where a governor or state legislature request them, to put down an insurrection or rebellion and to enforce a federal court's edict.

But he said he doesn't agree with the Kennedy administration contention that the federal government has a authority to intervene — in the absence of these constitutional provisions — to enforce the general civil rights of any individual.

Goldwater said he wasn't moving toward the center in subscribing generally to remarks made by Gerald K. Skibbins, Princeton, N.J., research executive, who declared that many Americans "squirm when they hear the label 'conservative' because they think of pre-World War II isolationism,

Potential Killers

It's heartening the number of people who ardently subscribe to the theory that the careless driver is as big a menace to society as a person who kills in cold blood. In fact, a university professor says he isn't being entirely facetious when he says the world would be a safer place if murderers went scot free and careless drivers were imprisoned.

Few will subscribe to that theory, even though it is a highly effective means of exposing the careless driver for the potential killer he is. Those guilty of murder should pay the penalty, but persons guilty of careless driving should also be severely punished.

The number of careless drivers is astro-

Lapel Lament

It was interesting to read in a style story the other day that lapels in men's suits may be wider soon. It was put this way "You will find some of the newer suits with slightly fuller lapels. Not the bulky, over-emphasized lapels of the past, but lapels that are trim enough to be in the trend without giving a stingy "look."

So be it. But some folk will recall fondly those generously wide lapels of decades ago, particularly in the movies. There was the immediate post-World War II era, of course, but reference here is to the really old days.

With the movie house piano playing a shrill accompaniment to a story of infidelity, a wife would cling desperately to the wide lapels of the husband who thought he had been betrayed. The actor (this

Brow-Fanning Idea

Well, fan all brows — here is the most fantastic suggestion of the year. Prof. Holbrook Landers, of Florida State University, reports that fans could be built across the neck of Florida and turned on in the winter to blow warm air south and cold air back north.

Such fans, the professor says, could prevent the occasional ruin of entire crops of fruit and winter vegetables, and would also presumably help keep tourists happy.

Professor Landers proposes that 12½-foot fans be perched on 62-foot towers and strung back-to-back from east to west across the peninsula. The rows would be 165 feet apart and the fans in each row 200 feet apart.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—You hear a lot today about red-link bookkeeping in U.S. accounts with the rest of the world. And you ask why just the United States? Why aren't other nations also having deficit problems affecting their currency and their credit standings?

The answer is Some nations do have balance of payments troubles, and have them bad; Other nations (like Britain) have them off and on, and most of the rest suffered after World War II even worse than the United States is today but have pulled from nomical. Everywhere in downtown areas drivers can be seen breaking traffic laws. Out on the main highways it is just as bad. These careless drivers are really dangerous because at high speeds a minor mistake can cause a major accident.

Careless drivers seldom have a reasonable defense. Not knowing the rules of the road is no excuse. Not being familiar with traffic laws is no excuse. Not having a car that is in proper shape for careful driving is no excuse. There isn't any excuse, in fact, except the sudden onset of an illness or something else equally unexpected and unavoidable that should stand up in court.

There should be an open season on careless drivers every day of every year.

could be anybody from Milton Sills to Ben Turpin) would hide his face in his arm, signifying unbearable anguish.

The actress (Norma Talmadge or perhaps a Gish) would swing from those broad lapels like a monkey, beseeching the husband's mercy and protesting her innocence.

But even with the predicted style revision, those exaggerated days may never return. In these times, the movie wife merely touches her husband lightly on the shoulder and whispers, "Take me home, John." There are no historicisms, only a few gentle tears.

How can a woman sob her best, or emote like mad, with practically nothing in the way of masculine lapels to hang on to?

Many are still baffled, even when the professor discloses that his study showed that cold air drains down upon the peninsula from the north-northwest at ground level, but the air riding just above is rather warm. He theorizes that if the fans could stir up the air sufficiently, the cold air would break up and the warm air would replace it.

Th. professor admits that just running the fans would cost an estimated $30 million a year. While that admission may throw cold water all over the idea, he must be given an 'A' for proving that it's still possible in this nuclear age for a scientist to come up with an idea that seems fantastic.

deficit to surplus as the United States slipped.

Underdeveloped countries usually are dependent on loans and grants from others to balance their payments with the rest of the world. This is especially true of those with big ambitions — the ones who want to grow industrially at jet speed. Aiding them has helped push the United States further into the red.

Industrial countries like Britain have periodic payment problems when their exports slump or their consumer taste for imports gets too rich.

France, West Germany and other European countries went through rough years after the war. West Germany built up to her present affluence by austerity. France belatedly cured its inflationary spree that caused the franc to be devalued more than once when the rest of the world lost confidence in it. Now a new inflation is starting and France is taking sharp corrective measures.

Canada has a commercial trade deficit of $1.4 billion with the United States, largely offset by $1.2 billion a year in investments by Americans. It now is proposing to curb U.S. imports while protesting U.S. efforts to stem the investment outflow.

The unique thing about the U.S. deficit of payments today is that

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN HOLLIDAY, reports Judge Jacob Braude, was the vigorous and hard-driving editor of the Indianapolis News when he spotted the word "height" misspelled "hight" in a front page story. He stormed into the composing room to learn the identity of the varmint who had committed this grievous blunder — and was shown the original copy. The mistake had been made by Mr. Holliday himself! "If that's the way I spelled it," he announced promptly, "it's correct." And for the next thirty years the word was spelled "hight" in the Indianapolis News.

Mrs. Goober and Mr. Goober were breakfasting together on the terrace outside their room at a West Indies resort. Mrs. Goober was talking and Mr. Goober was reading a four-days-old New York newspaper. As she poured the coffee, Mrs. Goober remarked acidly, "You needn't bother saying 'uh-huh' any more; I stopped talking five minutes ago."

Abel Green saw the pilot of a new Western TV show, updated to appeal to 1964 audiences. In it, the outlaws beat the stagecoach holdup rap—but are convicted for income tax evasion.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My doctor is an excellent one. We have complete faith in him. Nevertheless, my family insists that I have another examination to confirm his diagnosis.

I am afraid that I will destroy my good relationship with my doctor if I do this. What is your opinion? Mrs. G.F.F. California

Dear Mrs. F.: The good relationship you describe is a prized possession for both the patient and the doctor.

Families often feel the need for the additional comfort of a confirmatory opinion about a serious medical or surgical problem. Their concern is understandable and doctors generally do not consider this request a reflection on their medical judgment.

Recognizing the pressures made by friends and relatives, doctors often actually welcome additional opinions, especially about complicated problems.

If the doctor feels that any special duties are required, or the opinion of a specialist, he will usually suggest it long before the patient or their family do.

The mature way of obtaining another opinion is to tell your doctor that you desire one. This will preserve, even solidify your relationship with your doctor.

He will then choose the consultant he feels will make the greatest contribution. Blood studies, X-Rays, accumulated data and personal history will be sent to the consultant to avoid duplication and extra expense. You will then have the benefit of their combined thinking and advice.

Patients often misuse the term, "medical ethics" when they are contemplating getting another opinion. Actually, medical ethics is a concept that applies only to the doctor. His relationship with other doctors and with his patient constitutes medical ethics.

The patient must not confuse medical ethics with "medical good manners" when he seeks an additional opinion. It is obviously good medical manners to discuss the problem openly with your doctor.

Some patients naively believe that they are avoiding hurting their doctor's feelings by getting another opinion without notifying him. Embarrassment and confusion frequently result from this kind of approach, which, of course can affect a good doctor-patient relationship.

My son is 6 years old. He is terrified of thunder and lightning and actually hides in the closet during a storm. How can we help him?

Mrs. Y.S. Ohio

Dear Mrs. S.: Children are born into a world of anxiety, but they are not born afraid. Fears are usually planted innocently by their parents or by those who surround them. These fears blossom on the nutritious soil of childhood sensitivity.

When parents are afraid of thunder or lightning, they always transmit the fear to their children. Sometimes it is difficult to avoid showing one's own fear, but if your child sees that you are calm and relaxed he will be less and less afraid. Some parents have found it helpful to point out the beauty of lightning when seen from a protected vantage point.

The child should not be made to feel a sense of shame or weakness.

If he shows other kinds of distressing fears, he should have the benefit of psychological testing before these fears become too deeply imbedded.

How To Tell Middle Age

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether you are middle-aged?

This point is puzzling to many who have heard that the harvest years are the best years, but aren't quite sure whether they themselves have reached this landmark of living.

Actually, however, there is little doubt about it once you really do reach middle age. You're there for sure if—

You feel too old for touch football but too young for croquet.

Your scalp gets sunburned higher up than it used to, and it takes you less time in the morning to comb your hair.

While reading the evening newspaper, you reach down more often to pat your old dog—and hope he won't insist on taking you for a walk.

Every new joke you hear reminds you of an old joke that seems funnier. In fact, anything that happens reminds you of something that happened earlier—and was better.

It comes as a big surprise that Stan Musial is retiring from baseball. Why it seems like only yesterday he was a kid just breaking into the game.

Everybody in the house seems to be engaged in a conspiracy to leave the lights turned on and run up your electricity bills.

The only time you really sleep well is while listening to an after dinner speech.

You no longer have to attend PTA meetings—and kind of miss them.

Most of your old friends either are going to the hospital for an operation or recuperating from one. You spend more money buying get-well cards than going to night clubs.

You wonder why the younger generation has never been able to produce another poet like good old Edgar Guest.

Victory for Cyrus?

Back in the middle Nineteen Fifties that eminent capitalist, Cyrus Eaton, of Cleveland, Ohio, invited scientists from both sides of the Iron Curtain to meet in conference at his ancestral home in Pugwash, Nova Scotia. Since then there has been a "Pugwash" Conference every year, though they have usually been held in parts of the world that are quite distant from Canada. The 1963 "Pugwash" meeting has just finished its deliberations at Dubrovnik, in Yugoslavia, where, according to reports, all was amity between the western scientists and their opposite numbers from the Soviet Union. "Tensions," so the scientists said, had disappeared.

Since Eaton has been advocating deals and understandings with the Soviets ever since Khrushchev sent him a troika (three Russian horses and a carriage) back in the days when John Foster Dulles was our wary Secretary of State, the extremely amiable eleventh Pugwash meeting represents a personal triumph for the 80-year-old iron ore, railroad and utility tycoon. Old Cyrus can now say, "I told you so." After all, the Nuclear Test Ban has been signed, the country of his nativity, Canada, has just sold its wheat surplus to Khrushchev to save the Russians from short bread rations; and, in Washington, the ground-work is evidently being laid for a grain deal with Russia on our own. It is quite apparent that much of the foreign policy of the West is being recast in accordance with Eaton's prescribed outlines.

If this represents wisdom, then a lot of us owe an apology to old Cyrus. It wasn't so long ago that we were accusing him of willingness to trade beyond all safety with an evil international menace. But now that Republican senators from our farm states are joining with Democratic senators to advocate unloading millions of bushels of grain for good Soviet gold, old Cyrus is moving in quite distinguished company.

Indeed, if it be wisdom to make deals with the Soviets, Eaton might apply for gold star membership in the guild of the prophets. His has been the most grandiose vision of a glorious East-West rapprochement. A brilliant enterpriser in the field of uncovering new and promising iron ore deposits, Cyrus Eaton long ago nailed down the title to a virgin ore field in Ungava, in northern Quebec. The Ungava iron is too far away from Buffalo and Cleveland to compete with ore from more southerly mining areas, but Eaton has put a transcendent value on the Ungava deposits for all that in his Napoleonic imagination he has envisioned the Ungava ore flowing across the top of the world to the Krupp works in West Germany, there to be transformed into finished steel products for shipment to the Soviet Union.

You think your neighbor's high school son is spoiled because he isn't interested in digging crabgrass out of your lawn for four bits an hour. Why, at his age you'd have been glad to do it for half that kind of money.

On election days you get up early so you can be the first to vote against any candidate who wants to reform anything—because you're cynically certain that no politician will ever carry out a promise.

That's middle age—the harvest time!

By John Chamberlain

This vision has been part of Eaton's larger dream of a great Moscow-Bonn-Paris-London - Washington entente. And if it be respectable to think that the Canadian wheat deal is merely the first swallow of a long period of summer in East - West relations, then Eaton, is merely the oldest, boldest, most farsighted of the new order of visionaries.

Let us not rush off to endorse the visionaries, however, in any mad haste. Let us remember, at least for a day or two, the cries of those Hungarians as the Russian tanks moved in upon them to snuff out the dream of freedom only a few short years ago. Let us see, in our collective mind's eye, the shapes of the atomic missiles that Khrushchev was busy unloading in Cuban ports just a little over a year back. Let us hear, in our dreams, the explosion of FALN bombs in Caracas, Venezuela — bombs that have been just as lethal as the dynamite that murdered the kids in that Negro church in Birmingham, Alabama.

Finally, for those of us who are non-farmers, we have an interest in that wheat which the farm state senators, whether Republican or Democrat, want to sell to Russia. The subsidy paid to the farmers who raised that wheat has, in effect, been hijacked from the pockets of people who have no interest in helping Khrushchev maintain the oppression of his own farmers. I want a pro rata tax refund of subsidy money on any wheat that goes to Moscow.

Since justice cries out against making any deals with Khrushchev before he has moved to liberalize his own society and free his satellite slaves, I doubt the wisdom of rushing to accept Cyrus Eaton as a prophet. And so I won't apologize to him — just yet. Let him show me, first, that he can reform Khrushchev.

Would-Be Bridegroom Angers Judge, Winds Up in Custody

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Melvin Rahrig of nearby Monroeville angered a judge, missed his scheduled wedding and was hauled 100 miles to Columbus in handcuffs—all because he lied about his age.

Rahrig, 17 in July, had listed his age at 18 in filling out a marriage application to wed Betty Miller of Sandusky. She's also 17 but six months older than he.

The couple planned to be married Sept. 21 in St. Joseph Catholic Church in Monroeville. Two hundred persons were invited to the reception, an $80 wedding cake was purchased and the couple put down $90 rent on a furnished home.

Both sets of parents were present when Rahrig and Miss Miller filled out the marriage license. Ohio law states the male must be 18 to marry, even if the parents consent. Melvin fibbed about that.

He lied about his age, Miss Miller said, "because he didn't know the law and he didn't want people to know I was older than him."

Police arrested Rahrig the day before his scheduled wedding. A probation officer handcuffed him Monday and took him off to Columbus for six to eight weeks at the Child Diagnostic Center.

"He is a common nuisance," said the judge. "This boy has been in my court several times. I told him he'll have to toe the mark. We have had him take psychology tests and they indicate he is of low intelligence."

"He used to run around with some bad boys," said Miss Miller. "But that's all over now. He makes $90 to $100 a week as a house painter. We've been dating for eight months and I love him."

Potential Killers

It's heartening the number of people who ardently subscribe to the theory that the careless driver is as big a menace to society as a person who kills in cold blood. In fact, a university professor says he isn't being entirely facetious when he says the world would be a safer place if murderers went scot free and careless drivers were imprisoned.

Few will subscribe to that theory, even though it is a highly effective means of exposing the careless driver for the potential killer he is. Those guilty of murder should pay the penalty, but persons guilty of careless driving should also be severely punished.

The number of careless drivers is astronomical. Everywhere in downtown areas drivers can be seen breaking traffic laws. Out on the main highways it is just as bad. These careless drivers are really dangerous because at high speeds a minor mistake can cause a major accident.

Careless drivers seldom have a reasonable defense. Not knowing the rules of the road is no excuse. Not being familiar with traffic laws is no excuse. Not having a car that is in proper shape for careful driving is no excuse. There isn't any excuse, in fact, except the sudden onset of an illness or something else equally unexpected and unavoidable that should stand up in court.

There should be an open season on careless drivers every day of every year.

Lapel Lament

It was interesting to read in a style story the other day that lapels in men's suits may be wider soon. It was put this way "You will find some of the newer suits with slightly fuller lapels. Not the bulky, over-emphasized lapels of the past, but lapels that are trim enough to be in the trend without giving a stingy 'look.'"

So be it. But some folk will recall fondly those generously wide lapels of decades ago, particularly in the movies. There was the immediate post-World War II era, of course, but reference here is to the really old days.

With the movie house piano playing a shrill accompaniment to a story of infidelity, a wife would cling desperately to the wide lapels of the husband who thought he had been betrayed. The actor (this could be anybody from Milton Sills to Ben Turpin) would hide his face in his arm, signifying unbearable anguish.

The actress (Norma Talmadge or perhaps a Gish) would swing from those broad lapels like a monkey, beseeching the husband's mercy and protesting her innocence.

But even with the predicted style revision, those exaggerated days may never return. In these times, the movie wife merely touches her husband lightly on the shoulder and whispers, "Take me home, John." There are no historicisms, only a few gentle tears.

How can a woman sob her best, or emote like mad, with practically nothing in the way of masculine lapels to hang on to?

Brow-Fanning Idea

Well, fan all brows — here is the most fantastic suggestion of the year. Prof. Holbrook Landers, of Florida State University, reports that fans could be built across the neck of Florida and turned on in the winter to blow warm air south and cold air back north.

Such fans, the professor says, could prevent the occasional ruin of entire crops of fruit and winter vegetables, and would also presumably help keep tourists happy.

Professor Landers proposes that 12½-foot fans be perched on 62-foot towers and strung back-to-back from east to west across the peninsula. The rows would be 165 feet apart and the fans in each row 200 feet apart.

Many are still baffled, even when the professor discloses that his study showed that cold air drains down upon the peninsula from the north-northwest at ground level, but the air riding just above is rather warm. He theorizes that if the fans could stir up the air sufficiently, the cold air would break up and the warm air would replace it.

The professor admits that just running the fans would cost an estimated $30 million a year. While that admission may throw cold water all over the idea, he must be given an 'A' for proving that it's still possible in this nuclear age for a scientist to come up with an idea that seems fantastic.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—You hear a lot today about red-ink bookkeeping in U.S. accounts with the rest of the world. And you ask why just the United States? Why aren't other nations also having deficit problems affecting their currency and their credit standings?

The answer is Some nations do have balance of payments troubles, and have them bad. Other nations (like Britain) have them off and on, and most of the rest suffered after World War II even worse than the United States is today but have pulled from deficit to surplus as the United States slipped.

Underdeveloped countries usually are dependent on loans and grants from others to balance their payments with the rest of the world. This is especially true of those with big ambitions — the ones who want to grow industrially at jet speed. Aiding them has helped push the United States further into the red.

Industrial countries like Britain have periodic payment problems when their exports slump or their consumer taste for imports gets too rich.

France, West Germany and other European countries went through rough years after the war. West Germany built up to her present affluence by austerity. France belatedly cured its inflationary spree that caused the franc to be devalued more than once when the rest of the world lost confidence in it. Now a new inflation is starting and France is taking sharp corrective measures.

Canada has a commercial trade deficit of $1.4 billion with the United States, largely offset by $1.2 billion a year in investments by Americans. It now is proposing to curb U.S. imports while protesting U.S. efforts to stem the investment outflow.

The unique thing about the U.S. deficit of payments today is that it isn't in any of the classic forms.

Usually deficits arise from imports topping exports (as in post-war Europe while it was importing all it could to build up its industrial facilities for domestic use and finally for the exports that make it prosperous).

But in the United States exports go right along topping imports. Today the Yankee dollar, for all its problems, isn't shunned. It doesn't buy as much in goods and services as it once did. But most foreigners are willing to hold onto most of the dollars they get up to a point. And it's that point American and other financial authorities worry about.

If the U.S. balance of payments stays out of kilter too long and others get the idea the dollar might become shaky, most countries would switch from dollar reserves to demanding gold.

New Glamour For Girls In Glasses

SPECTACULAR FRAMES — They are made of cellulose acetate sheet and are shaped to accent the line of the lashes. Temples give a youth lift to the corners of the eyes.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

If you mistake strangers for friends and vice versa, if phone book type looks blurred and bleary, if they're making the eye of the needle smaller than ever, stop kidding yourself. You need glasses, girl.

Many a Miss prefers not to recognize this fact for fear glasses will detract from glamour. Not in this day and age, they won't.

New specs are SPECTACULAR Frames are fetching and have never been more flattering.

One new frame in fact was styled by two top designers, Raymond Loewy and William Snaith, with just one thing in mind — beauty!

It took them some time to create a shape that would add to milady's eye appeal, but they did it.

Their research, which included a study of eye make-up trends, resulted in frames that follow but do not hide the natural line of the brows. Made of cellulose acetate sheet, they are shaped to accent the upswept line of lashes.

The side pieces, called temples or bows, give a youthful lift to the corners of the eyes.

Available in black, brown, blue, sand or gray, these frames create a wide-eyed look when worn and permit make-up to show off the sparkling beauty of eyes.

One cosmetic house, in fact, has created a "smiling eyes" look to wear with these new frames.

It calls for shaping brows so they curve upward slightly at the outer corners but do not extend past spectacle frames.

Shadow is used over the entire lid, blended upward and outward toward the brows.

Eyeliner, stroked in a fine line along the upper lid close to lashes, stops shy of the outer corner of the eye and is then extended upward a tiny bit on the lid.

Mascara — two applications — is applied on upper lashes only.

This carefully created makeup gives eyes emphasis and sparkle providing glamour for girls who wear glasses.

Nice for adult evening refreshment: hot chocolate and hot coffee, mixed in half-and-half proportions, and topped with whipped cream.

Dear Abby:

Oohs and Ahs for Kids

DEAR ABBY: I am one waitress who always waits on teen-agers right away because I want to get rid of them. They are surly, and all they leave behind is a messy table.

DOESN'T LIKE TEENS

DEAR ABBY: Put me down as a waitress who enjoys waiting on teen-agers. I find that, like any other minority group, they behave extra nice because they do not want to reflect unfavorably on the group they represent. Give me teen-agers any time!

LIKES TEEN-AGERS

DEAR ABBY: My partner and I own a small diner near a high school. We had so much trouble with the kids stealing things and breaking up the place that we put a sign in our window, "WE DO NOT SOLICIT TEEN-AGE BUSINESS." A committee of parents came in and told us we were breaking the law to discriminate that way. We took down the sign and invited a few of the committee to come in and watch through the kitchen door, which had a glass window in it. After they saw what went on they told us to go ahead and put the sign back up.

PREFERS ADULTS

DEAR ABBY: For my part I hope I never have to wait on the teen-age crowd again. For one year I waited on tables where a lot of teen-agers hung out and I have had enough of them, thank you. They order a cup of coffee and expect you to keep it filled for an hour. They hold on to one booth no matter how many people are waiting to sit down. And when they leave, their table and the floor around it are a disgrace. Dozens of paper napkins, cigarette butts and spilled sugar. And they leave only an empty bottle of ketchup on the table.

SICK OF KIDS

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind having one or even two teen-agers in my drug store. But when three or more come in together, they spell trouble, and I never take my eye off them until they are out the door.

PROPRIETOR

DEAR ABBY: I run a hamburger joint and I couldn't stay in business without the kids. I love them. There are good and bad, but I found out if you treat them right they will treat you right, too. So what if they do make a little noise? I'd rather have them in here yelling and screaming than to have some old pussies who open their mouths only to complain about something. Kids don't gripe if the service is a little slow. And I've never known a teen-ager to send anything back to the kitchen.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR ABBY: It is strange that when teen-agers come into my place during the daytime, dressed in Bermudas and jeans, they act cowed and eat like pigs! But these same teen-agers will come in at night, dressed up in suits and pretty dresses, and they behave like ladies and gentlemen. I like to serve them in the evenings, but not during the day!

Five Points WSCS President Is Installed

Mrs. Herman Porter was installed as president when the Five Points Methodist WSCS met Wednesday evening in the church basement.

Mrs. William Riley conducted the installation service. Mrs. Richard Redman read Scripture. Roll call was answered by 21 members telling, "Why Belong to the WSCS?"

Mrs. George Kern, Mrs. Pat Phillips, Elizabeth Hill, Billy Phillips and Cinda Riley were guests.

Mrs. Arthur Winfough and Mrs. Francis Furniss reported. Plans were made for the annual turkey supper to be held in the church basement Nov. 2 with serving from 5 until 8 p. m. Committees were appointed to assist. The October meeting will be held one week early in order to complete the turkey supper plans. The business session closed with a reading, by Mrs. Porter.

Mrs. Paul Moore, program chairman, read, "What It Means to Belong to the WSCS." She was assisted by Mrs. Richard Everman, Mrs. Russell Hosler, Mrs. Helen Phillips and Mrs. Austin Fuller. The program closed with prayer by Mrs. Moore.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Arthur Winfough, Mrs. D. J. Conley and Mrs. Austin Fuller from tables centered with lovely arrangements of fall flowers.

Mrs. Richard Everman, Mrs. Ned Long and Mrs. Paul Upperman will be hostesses for the next meeting.

SEX DISCUSSION

Q. Should parents discuss sex with their children, or should they provide reading material on the subject?

A. Reading material is helpful but read the book yourself before giving it to the child. Later, the book can be the basis for informal discussion between parent and child to clarify misunderstandings. Parents, of course, should be well-informed. Unfortunately, many are not.

SWIMMING PROBLEM

Q. Is it harmful to get water in the ears while swimming?

A. It's probably not good for the ears and, under certain circumstances, may lead to serious difficulty. The inner portion of each ear houses an organ of balance which can be put out of commission by injecting cold water into the external ear canal. Nothing happens when both ears are simultaneously given the cold water treatment, but real trouble develops when only one ear is so affected. The person becomes very dizzy and is thrown completely off balance. This can occur in swimmers when, for example, one ear contains enough wax to keep the cold water out. Cold water entering the other ear may lead to extreme dizziness. All swimmers should make sure that they do not have wax in the ears—especially in one ear only—before going into the water.

The true measure of the worth of prescribed medicine lies not in dollars and cents, but in the faster relief from pain and speedier recovery it provides.

BACK ROOM TALK

This week the back room talk at the shop keeps coming back to football games and Circleville's Homecoming. From our ever hot grape vine from C.H.S. we've heard that this particular Homecoming is going to be bigger and better than ever.

Because of our team's impressive record Washington Court House is out for blood. This alone should provide an exciting game, with a lot of action. Three young beauties will run at the game. Doris Vanhoose, Cheryl Wood, and Anna Diltz are members of the Homecoming Court. From these three the Homecoming Queen will be announced at the dance.

The dance should be a huge success. A lot of work has gone into the planning and we hope everyone will turn out to have a good time. It's a chance for C.H.S. alumni and students to get together for fun. The Star-dusters from C.H.S. will provide the music. Here is where the alumni can show the students they're not the only ones who can do the twist and the bird. There will also be lots of good entertainment. Linda Benzenberg will do two modern dance numbers. This shouldn't be missed — she's terrific. FLASH — We have it straight from the horse's mouth that Circleville's answer to Peter, Paul, and Mary will be in an appearance. Dick, Bob, and Lynn (Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fisher and Bob Ransom) will have a hootenanny. We can't wait!

If you are wondering what to wear stop in The Deb Shop where you'll be sure to find the perfect dress or skirt and sweater combination for this Friday night and many other nights. Don't forget us or the game and dance. The place is The Deb Shop, 149 W. Main Street.

This week the back room talk at the shop keeps coming back to football games and Circleville's Homecoming. From our ever hot grape vine from C.H.S. we've heard that this particular Homecoming is going to be bigger and better than ever.

Because of our team's impressive record Washington Court House is out for blood. This alone should provide an exciting game, with a lot of action. Three young beauties will run at the game. Doris Vanhoose, Cheryl Wood, and Anna Diltz are members of the Homecoming Court. From these three the Homecoming Queen will be announced at the dance.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said today that Ohio reciprocity with other states on truck licenses and taxes will continue for another six months at least. He said reciprocity certificates have been issued to all other states, alleviating fears that trucks from some of them will have to buy Ohio licenses to travel through this state.

The certificates can be canceled after that time only if negotiations fail to resolve differences over retaliatory taxes on Ohio trucks because of Ohio's axle mile tax on trucks, Saxbe said.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing claims for unemployment compensation from those unemployed one week or more dropped from 54,932 to 54,137 in the week ended Sept. 28. New claims filed increased from 9,096 in the week ended Sept. 21 to 9,829 in the week ended Sept. 28.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation which made the report also listed the average number of new claims filed each week in September last year at 12,846, and the number of continuing claims on file in each week of September last year at 77,254.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's total receipts for the 1964 fiscal year to date passed the half-billion mark late Tuesday with "pay-ins" for a single day totaling $31.4 million, State Auditor Roger W. Tracy reported today.

The receipts for the three months and two days were $523,377,628, which included general revenue, highway, liquor and wild-life funds. Tracy said it marked the first time in the state's history that Ohio's coffers reached the half-billion mark so early in the fiscal year.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Lt. Austin Nagle, 42, reached for his boots Tuesday night as he went to slide down the brass pole to answer a fire alarm. He missed the pole and fell 14 feet to the floor of the broad street fire station. His left leg was fractured.

The fire report was a false alarm.

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German firms will export about $18 million worth of wheat flour to the Soviet Union, well-informed sources said today, despite Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's open disapproval of helping Moscow out of its bread shortage.

The quantity is relatively small — 250,000 tons, compared with the 6.8 million tons the Soviets have bought from Canada and the 1.8 million tons from Australia. The price is reported to be about $71 a ton, with delivery by March.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A tough little gray cat from Canada astonished veterinarians here by surviving a two-months journey from Montreal sealed in a crate.

A dicker in a warehouse noticed movement behind a knothole in the crate.

The crate was opened and the cat emerged, thin but little the worse except for a raging thirst.

LONDON (AP) — A social research expert reported today Britain's 5½ million teen-agers are spending a billion pounds ($2.8 billion) a year.

Dr. Mark Abrams said most of it goes on clothing, phonograph records, record-players, tape recorders and cars or motorcycles. Clothing accounts for around 10 per cent.

The total outlay is more than it costs the country to run its army and navy.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — A sawmill on the northwest coast of Oriente Province was destroyed early Tuesday in an attack from the sea, the Cuban armed forces ministry announced today.

A communique said "a pirate ship" slipped into the area under cover of darkness and destroyed the mill at Cayo Guin, near the town of Baracoa.

The vessel then escaped to the north, the communique said.

The nature of the attack was not disclosed.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan moved back into No. 10 Downing Street today after a three-year exile while the residence of British prime ministers was rebuilt.

Macmillan has been carrying on his official duties around the corner at Admiralty House since construction firms took over No. 10 in August, 1960.

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett was shown two faces of Princeton — one polite, the other hostile — when the pro-segregation Mississippian preached ed states' rights before a university audience.

During an hour speech and half hour question period before 1,500 persons, Barnett was applauded 32 times. Booning broke out 15 times.

In his speech, Barnett characterized civil rights agitation as the work of "selfish politicians of both parties in their mad scramble for votes."

"There are too many selfish, mealy-mouthed, pussy-footing, fence-riding politicians who are selling the American people down the river for their own personal political ambitions and gains," he said.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A foreign diplomat was accused Tuesday night of procuring prostitutes at a price for guests of his embassy.

Police identified him as the charge d'affaires of one of the smaller embassies in Copenhagen.

The disclosure came in the midst of an investigation of a vice ring that provided call girls at $50 to $100 each.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Members of the Beverly Hills Improvement Association are agreed: A freeway certainly wouldn't improve their community.

They met at the Beverly Hills Hotel to discuss the state's plan to build the freeway. Among those present were Lucile Ball, Jack Benny, Walt Disney, Edgar Bergen, James Stewart, Rosalind Russell and Gracie Allen.

SOESTERBERG, Netherlands (AP) — Queen Juliana, Prince Bernhard and Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands left Soesterberg for a 10-day state visit to Iran.

Foreign Minister Joseph Luns accompanied the royal party, which also will make a 7-day state visit to Thailand.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government has started legal proceedings aimed at extraditing former minister of interior Laureano Vallenilla Lanz from France.

The attorney general's office asked a judge to rule on the validity of charges of illicit enrichment against Lanz, who held office under former Dictator Perez Jimenez.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ferenc Nagy, the premier who was kicked out of Hungary by the Communists in 1947, says the West should try and get along with the country's Red government.

Nagy, in Pittsburgh to speak at Carnegie Institute of Technology, told newsmen he would continue his efforts to keep the issue of Hungarian freedom before the world.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Olsen and Johnson, vaudeville's famed comedy team, are resting side by side in a Las Vegas, Nev., cemetery.

The body of John S. (Ole) Olsen has been transferred from a cemetery in Wichita, Kan., and buried beside that of Chick Johnson.

Mrs. William Lear, daughter of Olsen, ordered the body moved. She couldn't be reached for comment, but Johnson's widow, Cathryn, said:

"She never did feel right about having Ole back there in Wichita and Chick out here. They were

Rhodes Advisers Urge Abolishing Of Library Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "Little Hoover Commission" confirmed today what has been known since late July—that it recommends abolishing the State Library Board and relocating library operations.

It amounts in effect to closing the State Library.

When the proposal leaked out more than two months ago, the normally sedate State Library—founded in 1817 by Ohio's sixth governor, Thomas Worthington—became the storm center in a statewide controversy.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has sponsored this study of Ohio's state government by 88 business-man-volunteers, would say only that he would carefully consider any recommendations concerning the State Library.

While debate about the desirability of the proposed changes has been going on—with librarians being particularly vocal—Walter T. Brahm, who has served longer than any of the 27 state librarians before him, last month completed his 21st year on the job.

However, it is understood that the Ohio library trustees and Ohio Library Association hope to get membership approval to hire Brahm as their first joint executive secretary, effective Jan. 1, at $15,000 a year. He now makes $11,280.

The recommendation made public today urges transfer of the State Library repository from the 11th, 13th and 14th floors of the State Office Building in downtown Columbus to the library on the Ohio State University campus. The commission admits that this would take action by the legislature but says it could save up to $140,000 annually. There would, of course, be an initial cost in moving.

Its present location and hours (9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays) are inconvenient for the public, it competes with and duplicates in part the various public and educational libraries, and its floor space (housing nearly a million books) could be used by other state agencies, the Little Hoover Commission says.

No state librarian or state library board appears on the proposed organization chart which accompanies the recommendations released today. There would be a library aid advisory board and a library aid coordinator.

Ohio State's Cooperative Extension Service could perform liaison between the relocated library and local librarians, the report says. It also recommends discontinuing accumulation, listing and filing of state documents "readily available at individual state departments and other library sources." This also would take legislative action.

just like brothers."

PARIS (AP)—The Florence and Daniel Guggenheim prize for outstanding work in science was awarded to Marcel Nicolet, director of the National Space Center in Belgium.

The award, presented at the International Astronautical Congress in Paris, includes $1,000 cash.

Purchase of all fiction books should be eliminated, the commission says, and helping people trace their ancestors (with some data now electronically processed) is not warranted and should be stopped.

As for the Ohioana Library Association, Inc., founded 33 years ago to promote Ohio's literary, musical and artistic values, the commission proposes that grants from the general fund continue but be restricted to the current $21,000-a-year level. It also recommends merger with the Ohio Historical Society.

Stock Market Moves Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly lower early this afternoon as trading slackened.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

Weakness of Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central followed new that the U.S. attorney general's office opposed the projected merger of the two roads.

New York Central was down 2 points, Pennsylvania more than a point.

Other railroads were mostly steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 277.9 with industrials up .2, rails up .1 and utilities up 1.

Despite further news of steel price increases, the steels backed away from early gains and moved raggedly lower on balance.

Sperry Rand and Chrysler again looked like the market pacemakers on volume. Each canceled early gains and showed small net losses.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said today that Ohio reciprocity with other states on truck licenses and taxes will continue for another six months at least. He said reciprocity certificates have been issued to all other states, alleviating fears that trucks from some of them will have to buy Ohio licenses to travel through this state. The certificates can be cancelled after that time only if negotiations fail to resolve differences over retailing taxes on Ohio trucks because of Ohio's axle mile tax on trucks, Saxbe said.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing claims for unemployment compensation from those unemployed one week or more dropped from 54,932 to 54,137 in the week ended Sept. 28. New claims filed increased from 9,096 in the week ended Sept. 21 to 9,829 in the week ended Sept. 28.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation which made the report also listed the average number of new claims filed each week in September last year at 12,846, and the number of continuing claims on file in each week of September last year at 77,254.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's total receipts for the 1964 fiscal year to date passed the half-billion mark late Tuesday with "pays" for a single day totaling $31.4 million, State Auditor Roger W. Tracy reported today.

The receipts for the three months and two days were $523,377,628, which included general revenue, highway, liquor and wild-life funds. Tracy said it marked the first time in the state's history that Ohio's coffers reached the half-billion mark so early in the fiscal year.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Lt. Austin Nagle, 42, reached for his boots Tuesday night as he went to slide down the brass pole to answer a fire alarm. He missed the pole and fell 14 feet to the floor of the broad street fire station. His left leg was fractured.

The fire report was a false alarm.

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German firms will export about $18 million worth of wheat flour to the Soviet Union, well-informed sources said today, despite Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's open disapproval of helping Moscow out of its bread shortage.

The quantity is relatively small — 250,000 tons, compared with the 6.8 million tons the Soviets have bought from Canada and the 1.8 million tons from Australia. The price is reported to be about $71 a ton, with delivery by March.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A tough little gray cat from Canada astonished veterinarians here by surviving a two-months journey from Montreal sealed in a crate.

A dicker in a warehouse noticed movement behind a knothole in the crate.

The crate was opened and the cat emerged, thin but little the worse except for a raging thirst.

LONDON (AP) — A social research expert reported today Britain's 5½ million teen-agers are spending a billion pounds ($2.8 billion) a year.

Dr. Mark Abrams said most of it goes on clothing, phonograph records, record-players, tape recorders and cars or motorcycles. Clothing accounts for around 10 per cent.

The total outlay is more than it costs the country to run its army and navy.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — A sawmill on the northwest coast of Oriente Province was destroyed early Tuesday in an attack from the sea, the Cuban armed forces ministry announced today.

A communique said "a pirate ship" slipped into the area under cover of darkness and destroyed the mill at Cayo Guin, near the town of Baracoa.

The vessel then escaped to the north, the communique said.

The nature of the attack was not disclosed.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan moved back into No. 10 Downing Street today after a three-year exile while the residence of British prime ministers was rebuilt.

Macmillan has been carrying on his official duties around the corner at Admiralty House since construction firms took over No. 10 in August, 1960.

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett was shown two faces of Princeton — one polite, the other hostile — when the pro-segregation Mississippian preached ed states' rights before a university audience.

During an hour speech and half hour question period before 1,500 persons, Barnett was applauded 32 times. Booring broke out 15 times.

In his speech, Barnett characterized civil rights agitation as the work of "selfish politicians of both parties in their mad scramble for votes."

"There are too many selfish, mealy-mouthed, pussy-footing, fence-riding politicians who are selling the American people down the river for their own personal political ambitions and gains," he said.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A foreign diplomat was accused Tuesday night of procuring prostitutes at a price for guests of his embassy.

Police identified him as the charge d'affaires of one of the smaller embassies in Copenhagen. The disclosure came in the midst of an investigation of a vice ring that provided call girls at $50 to $100 each.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Members of the Beverly Hills Improvement Association are agreed: A freeway certainly wouldn't improve their community.

They met at the Beverly Hills Hotel to discuss the state's plan to build the freeway. Among those present were Lucile Ball, Jack Benny, Walt Disney, Edgar Bergen, James Stewart, Rosalind Russell and Gracie Allen.

SOESTERBERG, Netherlands (AP) — Queen Juliana, Prince Bernhard and Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands left Soesterberg for a 10-day state visit to Iran.

Foreign Minister Joseph Luns accompanied the royal party, which also will make a 7-day state visit to Thailand.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government has started legal proceedings aimed at extraditing former minister of interior Laureano Vallenilla Lanz from France.

The attorney general's office asked a judge to rule on the validity of charges of illicit enrichment against Lanz, who held office under former Dictator Perez Jimenez.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ferenc Nagy, the premier who was kicked out of Hungary by the Communists in 1947, says the West should try and get along with the country's Red government.

Nagy, in Pittsburgh to speak at Carnegie Institute of Technology, told newsmen he would continue his efforts to keep the issue of Hungarian freedom before the world.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Olsen and Johnson, vaudeville's famed comedy team, are resting side by side in a Las Vegas, Nev., cemetery.

The body of John S. (Ole) Olsen has been transferred from a cemetery in Wichita, Kan., and buried beside that of Chick Johnson.

Mrs. William Lear, daughter of Olsen, ordered the body moved. She couldn't be reached for comment, but Johnson's widow, Cathryn, said:

"She never did feel right about having Ole back there in Wichita and Chick out here. They were

Rhodes Advisers Urge Abolishing Of Library Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "Little Hoover Commission" confirmed today what has been known since late July—that it recommends abolishing the State Library Board and relocating library operations.

It amounts in effect to closing the State Library.

When the proposal leaked out more than two months ago, the normally sedate State Library—founded in 1817 by Ohio's sixth governor, Thomas Worthington—became the storm center in a statewide controversy.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has sponsored this study of Ohio's state government by 88 business-man-volunteers, would say only that he would carefully consider any recommendations concerning the State Library.

While debate about the desirability of the proposed changes has been going on—with librarians being particularly vocal—Walter T. Brahm, who has served longer than any of the 27 state librarians before him, last month completed his 21st year on the job.

However, it is understood that the Ohio library trustees and Ohio Library Association hope to get membership approval to hire Brahm as their first joint executive secretary, effective Jan. 1, at $15,000 a year. He now makes $11,280.

The recommendation made public today urges transfer of the State Library repository from the 11th, 13th and 14th floors of the State Office Building in downtown Columbus to the library on the Ohio State University campus. The commission admits that this would take action by the legislature but says it could save up to $140,000 annually. There would, of course, be an initial cost in moving.

Its present location and hours (9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays) are inconvenient for the public, it competes with and duplicates in part the various public and educational libraries, and its floor space (housing nearly a million books) could be used by other state agencies, the Little Hoover Commission says.

No state librarian or state library board appears on the proposed organization chart which accompanies the recommendation released today. There would be a library aid advisory board and a library aid coordinator.

Ohio State's Cooperative Extension Service could perform liaison between the relocated library and local librarians, the report says. It also recommends discontinuing accumulation, listing and filing of state documents "readily available at individual state departments and other library sources." This also would take legislative action.

just like brothers."

PARIS (AP) — The Florence and Daniel Guggenheim prize for outstanding work in science was awarded to Marcel Nicolet, director of the National Space Center in Belgium.

The award, presented at the International Astronautical Congress in Paris, includes $1,000 cash.

Purchase of all fiction books should be eliminated, the commission says, and helping people trace their ancestors (with some data now electronically processed) is not warranted and should be stopped.

As for the Ohioana Library Association, Inc., founded 33 years ago to promote Ohio's literary, musical and artistic values, the commission proposes that grants from the general fund continue but be restricted to the current $21,000-a-year level. It also recommends merger with the Ohio Historical Society.

Stock Market Moves Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly lower early this afternoon as trading slackened.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

Weakness of Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central followed new that the U.S. attorney general's office opposed the projected merger of the two roads.

New York Central was down 2 points, Pennsylvania more than a point.

Other railroads were mostly steady.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 277.9 with industrials up .2, rails up .1 and utilities up 1.

Despite further news of steel price increases, the steels backed away from early gains and moved regally lower on a balance.

Sperry Rand and Chrysler again looked like the market pacemakers on volume. Each canceled early gains and showed small net losses.

Ships Keep Tab On Weather Data

Launching a weather balloon from a ship. Extreme care must be taken so the wind does not blow the balloon and its attached instruments against the rail or into the water before the aircraft has a chance to become fully airborne. A United Nations photo.

By STEVE LIBBY
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

The jet age and the upsurge in international air travel has created an urgent need for better and more up-to-date weather reports as flights increase in number, speed and altitude. Today 23 ships manned by some 1,200 men participate in making certain all aircraft and ships are alerted to weather problems in the North Atlantic.

The International Civil Aviation Organization, supported by the World Meteorological Organization is concerned with the numerous aspects of the problem and nine weather stations are located in various parts of the Atlantic.

This floating network is supported financially by 18 nations under a special ICAO agreement and ships are provided, maintained and manned by the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Norway, Sweden, the Netherlands and France.

One of the ships, for example, the Cirrus, is stationed 300 miles off the Norwegian coast, just south of the Arctic Circle. Owned by the Dutch government and operated by the Netherlands Department of Aviation, the ship carries more than 50 men: crew, meteorological observers and radio operators.

Like most ships, the Cirrus remains at position for 35 days before being relieved by another ship — a lonely life in a deserted part of the ocean.

In addition to its prime function — that of making meteorological observations — weather ships carry out oceanographic observations, prepare daily weather charts, and give navigational assistance to aircraft and ships when asked to do so. They also aid in search and rescue operations at sea when needed.

Four balloons are sent up daily each equipped with radiosondes and radar targets. These enable observers to calculate the exact pressure, temperature and humidity of the air at different altitudes, as well as direction and velocity of the wind.

Surface observations are made around the clock, including the proportion of cloud coverage, types of clouds, amount of humidity, temperature of the surface water, period of swells and other information.

From the ship's radio room, these observations are sent by radio to Bergen, Norway, and from there forwarded to the key station, Frankfurt-am-Main, in the federal republic of Germany. Government agencies, airlines, shipping firms, radio stations and air and sea centers all over the world are advised from this central source regularly.

The weather ships are part of an international system providing safer air and sea travel, since all weather reports and meteorological estimates are partly based on information supplied by the ships at their mid-ocean stations.

Their rescue operations are equally impressive. Since 1953 some 253 lives have been saved, mostly in marine accidents.

2 Traffic Accidents Tied to Womans Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. William M. Chambers, 62, of Akron, involved in two traffic accidents Tuesday, was pronounced dead shortly afterwards at Akron General Hospital. The second accident involved the ambulance taking her to the hospital after her car and another auto collided at Glenmount Avenue & Waterloo Road.

The ambulance and a car collided at the intersection of Cedar and Locust streets. The driver, Richard Potter, 27, and an attendant, Eric Voth, 19, of Cuyahoga Falls, were injured. The other driver in the first collision, Welda Johnson, 22, of Akron, suffered minor injuries.

Ohio Turnpike Restaurants Under Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission says numerous complaints about restaurants on the super-highway present a "challenge for us to re-examine the facilities."

Chairman James W. Shocknessy urged immediate correction of the turnpike's restaurant operations. "We have to face redesigning if redesigning is required," he told commission members here Tuesday.

Shocknessy emphasized that restaurant operators are not completely at fault, that part of it is imperfection in design and inadequacy of facilities.

He said he has read and received a number of complaints about the food and service in the turnpike restaurants. "The criticism is just," he said. "The restaurant facilities should be improved."

Noting that the turnpike entered its ninth year Tuesday, Shocknessy said the 100 millionth vehicle is expected to travel the highway this month.

In a financial review of the years since the opening of the turnpike's first section on Dec. 1, 1954, Shocknessy reported revenues of $180,228,000 and expenditures of $123,753,000. The expenses included $21,810,000 for bonds retired to date.

Ohio Auto License Fund Is Far over '62 Totals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The final distribution of 1962 vehicle license plate funds to local taxing districts has brought the total distribution to more than $80 million, the Highway Safety Department announced today.

The actual sum, $80,563,363, was an increase of $17 million over 1961 funds, according to Warren C. Nelson, director of the State Highway Safety Department.

The revenues to the local taxing districts are used exclusively for maintenance and repair of roads.

Dahlia Show Draws Crowd Of Nearly 300

A crowd of nearly 300 persons attended the non-competitive Dahlia Show Sunday in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Individual entries numbered 308 not including the arrangement division with its 28 entries.

There were 16 exhibitors. On the committee directing the show were: Bill Cook, Pickaway County Fair manager; Charles Rawlings, Paul Peck and William Rhinesmith.

At the end of the afternoon an informal panel judged the entries. On the panel were two accredited dahlia judges, Charles Rawlings and John E. Rawlings, both of Ross County. Other committee members also assisted in the judging. No awards were given.

THE largest flower had been exhibited by Charles Rawlings. Mr. and Mrs. George Ricketts of N. Lewisburg brought the best "A" dahlia.

Mrs. Guy Stockman's entry was considered best in the "B" class. Her pom-pom was best in its class too. The Stockmans live at E. Franklin St.

Paul Peck of New Holland displayed the best half dahlia and William Rhinesmith brought the best miniature.

The committee commented on the beauty and number of entries in the arrangement division. According to Cook there are rarely this many displays in the arrangement class of a very large dahlia show.

Exhibitors were: Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts, Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Ashville; Mrs. Stockman, Logan Payne, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Hillis Hall and Mrs. Richard Jones of the Circleville area; Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinesmith, Joe Rhinesmith and Mrs. Bertha Porter of Williamsport; Ben Boyer of Tarlton; Charles and Danny Rawlings of Clarksburg and John E. In addition to its prime function — that of making meteorological observations — weather ships carry out oceanographic observations, prepare daily weather charts, and give navigational assistance to aircraft and ships when asked to do so. They also aid in search and rescue operations at sea when needed.

Four balloons are sent up daily each equipped with radiosondes and radar targets. These enable observers to calculate the exact pressure, temperature and humidity of the air at different altitudes, as well as direction and velocity of the wind.

Surface observations are made around the clock, including the proportion of cloud coverage, types of clouds, amount of humidity, temperature of the surface water, period of swells and other information.

From the ship's radio room, these observations are sent by radio to Bergen, Norway, and from there forwarded to the key station, Frankfurt-am-Main, in the federal republic of Germany. Government agencies, airlines, shipping firms, radio stations and air and sea centers all over the world are advised from this central source regularly.

The weather ships are part of an international system providing safer air and sea travel, since all weather reports and meteorological estimates are partly based on information supplied by the ships at their mid-ocean stations.

Their rescue operations are equally impressive. Since 1953 some 253 lives have been saved, mostly in marine accidents.

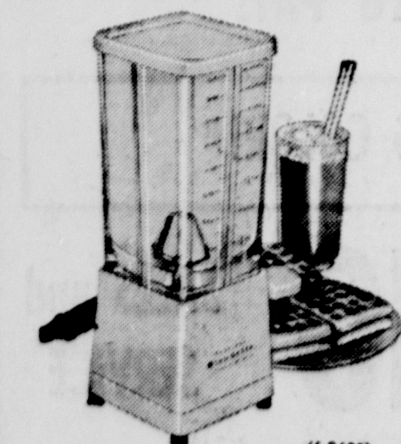

2 Traffic Accidents Tied to Woman's Death

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. William M. Chambers, 62, of Akron, involved in two traffic accidents Tuesday, was pronounced dead shortly afterwards at Akron General Hospital. The second accident involved the ambulance taking her to the hospital after her car and another auto collided at Glenmount Avenue & Waterloo Road.

The ambulance and a car collided at the intersection of Cedar and Locust streets. The driver, Richard Potter, 27, and an attendant, Eric Voth, 19, of Cuyahoga Falls, were injured. The other driver in the first collision, Welda Johnson, 22, of Akron, suffered minor injuries.

Ohio Turnpike Restaurants

Under Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission says numerous complaints about restaurants on the super-highway present a "challenge for us to re-examine the facilities."

Chairman James W. Shocknessy urged immediate correction of the turnpike's restaurant operations. "We have to face redesigning if redesigning is required," he told commission members here Tuesday.

Shocknessy emphasized that restaurant operators are not completely at fault, that part of it is imperfection in design and inadequacy of facilities.

He said he has read and received a number of complaints about the food and service in the turnpike restaurants. "The criticism is just," he said. "The restaurant facilities should be improved."

Noting that the turnpike entered its ninth year Tuesday, Shocknessy said the 100 millionth vehicle is expected to travel the highway this month.

In a financial review of the years since the opening of the turnpike's first section on Dec. 1, 1954, Shocknessy reported revenues of $180,228,000 and expenditures of $123,753,000. The expenses included $21,810,000 for bonds retired to date.

Lima Unions To Seek Inspection at Sohio

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Unions representing workers at two plants of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio said today they will ask the state fire marshal and the Industrial Commission for a safety inspection.

The joint action of the locals for employees of the Lima refinery and Cleveland plant No. 2 follows announcements of planned layoffs by the company.

GETS A NEW AGE—Jeanine Ruth Mills points to March 17 on the calendar in Kalamazoo, Mich., to show her new birthday, fixed by a judge. Jeanine, an adopted Korean orphan, walked into court a 6-year-old and went out a 9-year-old. Because of her small size, the director of the orphanage in which she lived set her age at 6, but doctors, dentists and teachers decided she's about 9.

Ohio Auto License Fund Is Far over '62 Totals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The final distribution of 1962 vehicle license plate funds to local taxing districts has brought the total distribution to more than $80 million, the Highway Safety Department announced today.

The actual sum, $80,563,363, was an increase of $17 million over 1961 funds, according to Warren C. Nelson, director of the State Highway Safety Department.

The revenues to the local taxing districts are used exclusively for maintenance and repair of roads.

RAMBLER GOES ON DISPLAY THURSDAY — Curved glass side windows and a distinctive horizontal fine-line grille accentuate the all-new 1964 Rambler American (above). Dahlia Show Draws Crowd Of Nearly 300

A crowd of nearly 300 persons attended the non-competitive Dahlia Show Sunday in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Individual entries numbered 308 not including the arrangement division with its 28 entries.

There were 16 exhibitors. On the committee directing the show were: Bill Cook, Pickaway County Fair manager; Charles Rawlings, Paul Peck and William Rhinesmith.

At the end of the afternoon an informal panel judged the entries. On the panel were two accredited dahlia judges, Charles Rawlings and John E. Rawlings, both of Ross County. Other committee members also assisted in the judging. No awards were given.

THE largest flower had been exhibited by Charles Rawlings. Mr. and Mrs. George Ricketts of N. Lewisburg brought the best "A" dahlia.

Mrs. Guy Stockman's entry was considered best in the "B" class. Her pompon was best in its class too. The Stockmans live at E. Franklin St.

Paul Peck of New Holland displayed the best half dahlia and William Rhinesmith brought the best miniature.

The committee commented on the beauty and number of entries in the arrangement division. According to Cook there are rarely this many displays in the arrangement class of a very large dahlia show.

Exhibitors were: Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts, Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Ashville; Mrs. Stockman, Logan Payne, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Hillis Hall and Mrs. Richard Jones of the Circleville area; Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinesmith, Joe Rhinesmith and Mrs. Bertha Porter of Williamsport; Ben Boyer of Tarlton; Charles and Danny Rawlings of Clarksburg and John E. Rawlings of Chillicothe.

Dem Leaders See OK Ahead For Tax Cut, Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders after consulting with President Kennedy Tuesday said that there is no valid reason why Congress can't pass both the tax and civil rights bills this session. They said every effort will be made to do so.

However, earlier reports indicated that the administration has abandoned plans to try to hurry up Senate Finance Committee action on the tax cut. This apparently reduced chances of passing it this year.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said that "No two programs are more essential to the well being of the nation."

Without the proposed $11 billion tax cut, he said, the economy cannot meet the demand for jobs posed by an exploding population.

Without enactment of the civil rights bill, he said, the nation will diminish morally.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana echoed the speaker's sentiments. He said there is no intention to pass either the tax bill or the civil rights bill alone but to pass both before the congressional session ends.

Answering a question, Mansfield said he had received no indication when Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee, would bring the House-passed tax bill before the committee for consideration. He said, however, that he would expect Byrd to start hearings shortly.

An administration nose count indicated it could not muster a majority within the 17-member committee to strip Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of control over the scheduling of hearings on the House-passed measure.

Although Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., had indicated previously he would move for such a showdown today and Byrd was braced for battle, Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said he did not believe any such challenge would materialize.

Smathers, secretary of the conference of all Democratic senators, said he felt it would be a mistake to try to wrest authority away from the chairman. Byrd opposes tax reduction unless it is accompanied by significant spending cuts.

Byrd said in a separate interview that the House had taken eight months to pass the tax measure and he felt the Senate committee should have a reasonable length of time to consider it.

The chairman plans to start closed-door briefings of committee members by congressional tax experts Thursday. He has made no announcement of public hearings but they may start with a midmonth appearance of Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

What the Senate does about the tax bill appears to be wrapped up in the timing of House action on President Kennedy's civil rights program.

The Finance Committee's hearings could consume two months. But they will grind to a virtual halt if the House gives its expected approval to a civil rights bill and leaders move to bring that measure before the Senate.

Estimates on the timing of House action range from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15, or even later. As matters stand, administration lieutenants lack the votes in the House committee for approval of the full program.

Once the bill reaches the Senate, the filibuster fat will be in the fire. This means that for a month — during which some around-the-clock sessions will be held — the Senate will give its almost undivided attention to the matter.

If administration is to get any action this year, it probably will have to invoke the cloture rule to curb debate. This requires approval of the move by two-thirds of those voting. It will be touch-and-go to apply cloture on even a stripped-down program.

Faced with these prospects, leaders who regard congressional passage of a civil rights bill as imperative are quietly conceding that the tax measure for which Kennedy has been plugging may have to go over until next year.

Nixon Certain Rockefeller To Be Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made it "quite clear" during a chat three weeks ago that he will seek the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

The former vice president says that as a result of the talk he has no doubt that Rockefeller will make the race. Nixon added that he believes Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will be a candidate for the nomination.

"Both are so heavily committed," he said, "that it will be impossible for them to pull back."

Nixon, the 1960 GOP nominee, told newsmen Rockefeller "implied" that he wanted Nixon's support for the nomination. But, Nixon added: "I am not committed to any candidate at this time."

Asked whether he might emerge as a dark horse candidate if a convention deadlock developed between Rockefeller and Goldwater, Nixon replied:

"I'm not going to be a candidate in 1964. There will be no dark horse candidates. I will support the candidate chosen by the Republican convention."

Nixon added that he will "not be part of any stop-Rockefeller or stop-Goldwater movement."

Harding Papers Given Historians

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Harding Memorial Association of Marion has announced that it will present some 300,000 pieces — of correspondence of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Ohio Historical Society.

The gift will be made sometime this week, association officials said, and will be based on the condition that the correspondence will be available for research purposes.

The letters were all written or received by President Harding during his presidential term — March 4, 1921, until his death Aug. 2, 1923.

Dem Leaders See OK Ahead For Tax Cut, Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders after consulting with President Kennedy Tuesday said that there is no valid reason why Congress can't pass both the tax and civil rights bills this session. They said every effort will be made to do so.

However, earlier reports indicated that the administration has abandoned plans to try to hurry up Senate Finance Committee action on the tax cut. This apparently reduced chances of passing it this year.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said that "No two programs are more essential to the well being of the nation."

Without the proposed $11 billion tax cut, he said, the economy cannot meet the demand for jobs posed by an exploding population.

Without enactment of the civil rights bill, he said, the nation will diminish morally.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana echoed the speaker's sentiments. He said there is no intention to pass either the tax bill or the civil rights bill alone but to pass both before the congressional session ends.

Answering a question, Mansfield said he had received no indication when Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee, would bring the House-passed tax bill before the committee for consideration. He said, however, that he would expect Byrd to start hearings shortly.

An administration nose count indicated it could not muster a majority within the 17-member committee to strip Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of control over the scheduling of hearings on the House-passed measure.

Although Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., had indicated previously he would move for such a showdown today and Byrd was braced for battle, Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said he did not believe any such challenge would materialize.

Smathers, secretary of the conference of all Democratic senators, said he felt it would be a mistake to try to wrest authority away from the chairman. Byrd opposes tax reduction unless it is accompanied by significant spending cuts.

Byrd said in a separate interview that the House had taken eight months to pass the tax measure and he felt the Senate committee should have a reasonable length of time to consider it.

The chairman plans to start closed-door briefings of committee members by congressional tax experts Thursday. He has made no announcement of public hearings but they may start with a midmonth appearance of Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

What the Senate does about the tax bill appears to be wrapped up in the timing of House action on President Kennedy's civil rights program.

The Finance Committee's hearings could consume two months. But they will grind to a virtual halt if the House gives its expected approval to a civil rights bill and leaders move to bring that measure before the Senate.

Estimates on the timing of House action range from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15, or even later. As matters stand, administration lieutenants lack the votes in the House committee for approval of the full program.

Once the bill reaches the Senate, the filibuster fat will be in the fire. This means that for a month — during which some around-the-clock sessions will be held — the Senate will give its almost undivided attention to the matter.

If he administration is to get any action this year, it probably will have to invoke the cloture rule to curb debate. This requires approval of the move by two-thirds of those voting. It will be touch-and-go to apply cloture on even a stripped-down program.

Faced with these prospects, leaders who regard congressional passage of a civil rights bill as imperative are quietly conceding that the tax measure for which Kennedy has been plugging may have to go over until next year.

Nixon Certain Rockefeller To Be Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made it "quite clear" during a chat three weeks ago that he will seek the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

The former vice president says that as a result of the talk he has no doubt that Rockefeller will make the race. Nixon added that he believes Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will be a candidate for the nomination.

"Both are so heavily committed," he said, "that it will be impossible for them to pull back." Nixon, the 1960 GOP nominee, told newsmen Rockefeller "implied" that he wanted Nixon's support for the nomination. But, Nixon added: "I am not committed to any candidate at this time."

Asked whether he might emerge as a dark horse candidate if a convention deadlock developed between Rockefeller and Goldwater, Nixon replied:

"I'm not going to be a candidate in 1964. There will be no dark horse candidates. I will support the candidate chosen by the Republican convention."

Nixon added that he will "not be part of any stop-Rockefeller or stop-Goldwater movement."

Harding Papers Given Historians

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Harding Memorial Association of Marion has announced that it will present some 300,000 pieces — of correspondence of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Ohio Historical Society.

The gift will be made sometime this week, association officials said, and will be based on the condition that the correspondence will be available for research purposes.

The letters were all written or received by President Harding during his presidential term — March 4, 1921, until his death Aug. 2, 1923.

Ohio Couple To Return to Legal Mates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An Ohio couple appears to have straightened out their matrimonial problems and are going home.

Jack Steenbergen, 36-year-old turkey farmer from Ironton, and Mrs. Marsha Walbright, 25, agreed to end their elopement at a Municipal Court hearing Tuesday on charges of child neglect.

They agreed to go home with their own spouses to try to patch things up "for the sake of the children."

The tentative settlement was reached in the chambers of Municipal Court Judge Fitzgerald Ames. At the hearing were Steenbergen's wife, Margaret, and Mrs. Walbright's husband, Fred. The runaways had eloped to Mexico from Ironton on Sept. 18, taking along three of their small children.

Steenbergen and Mrs. Walbright were on their way to Australia to start a new life. They were arrested here Friday on the child neglect charges.

They had obtained Mexican divorces and married. The Mexican divorce is not recognized in California or Ohio.

2 Women Are Selected For Democrat Positions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two women have been appointed to posts in the state Democratic Party's 1964 presidential campaign program by Chairman William L. Coleman.

Mrs. John Donahy, Columbus, was named chairman of "Operation Support," a program directed to women voters. Mrs. Vera Elliott of Canton was named co-chairman of the Ohio Democratic Voters Registration Committee. She will work with John A. Ujhelyi of Lorain.

The three principal fertilizers are phosphorus, nitrogen and potash.

Pre-Historic Bones Are Found Near Marion

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Bones, said to be the near-complete skeletons of a pre-historic Indian man and woman, have been uncovered in a field southwest of here.

Raymond S. Baby, curator of Archeology for the Ohio Historical Society, said the bones could be 1,200 years old. Also unearthed from a shallow grave were fragments of bones believed to be that of an Indian child.

Woman, 65, Accused in Mate's Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. August Rothkegel, 65, whose husband was slain in their home in suburban Parma two weeks ago, has been charged with second-degree murder.

She will be arraigned when she is released from Parma Community Hospital, where she is confined with head injuries. Police said the injuries apparently were received in a fight with her husband, William, 78, Sept. 15.

His body was found Sept. 16 in the couple's home. His head was gashed and a four-time garden fork with blood on it was leaning against a chair in which he had been sitting.

Mrs. Rothkegel was found in a bed, upstairs, critically injured with a skull fracture and other marks of a severe beating.

Andrew Boyko, Parma solicitor, said the murder charge filed Tuesday was based on physical evidence that contradicted answers given by Mrs. Rothkegel in interviews with police. He suggested a bond of $5,000.

Police said Mrs. Rothkegel admitted fighting with her husband following an argument over terms of his will but denied hitting him with the garden fork.

Antitrust Chief Takes Rap At Pennsy-NYC Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy Administration has denounced the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads as a threat to railroad competition.

But the administration, in a policy statement that must have upheld two other major railroad consolidations in the east—those of the Norfolk & Western, the Nickel Plate and the Wabash, and of the Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio lines.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Orrick, Jr., the Justice Department's antitrust chief, exploded the bombshell Tuesday as more than a year of hearings into the Penn-Central proposal dwindled toward a close before examiners of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There was no immediate comment from the two railroads.

The Orrick statement is no more binding on the examiners than any other statement of opinion. It represents the conclusions of the Interagency Committee on Transport Mergers.

This group—representing Commerce, Labor and Justice Departments and the Council of Economic Advisers—was formed at President Kennedy's request last year to set Administration policy on pending mergers.

"The government's conclusion is that a Pennsylvania-New York Central merger would not be in the public interest," Orrick said. It would "eliminate a vast amount of beneficial rail competition."

The dominance of a Penn-Central system in the East would "endanger the service capabilities, the prospects and even the continued existence of several small railroads," he continued.

Healthier than a Penn-Central merger, Orrick suggested, would be the inclusion in the Penn system of such smaller lines as the Delaware & Hudson, and in the New York Central system of roads like the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Monon, Lehigh Valley and Chicago & Eastern Illinois.

Orrick said the ultimate integration of the Baltimore & Ohio with the Chesapeake & Ohio "could create a rational rail network which would permit improved rail service to the public."

The hearings were expected to end this week—possibly today. It may well be another year before the examiners digest the gigantic record and come out with a recommendation for the full commission.

Independent Colleges Eye Competition

CLEVELAND (AP)—Independent colleges face stiff competition from state-supported schools for students and financial support, says Oberlin College President Robert K. Carr.

He expressed that view Tuesday at a meeting of 11 Ohio college presidents who represented members schools of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges, Inc., a mutual fund-raising organization.

"The alternative to increasing our operating incomes by gifts and wise endowment management," said Carr, "is to turn to the government."

He said most private colleges already have agreed it is proper to accept federal loans for housing and grants for research from the National Science Foundation.

The future of independent colleges is in great doubt, Carr said, because of the expansion of public schooling higher education.

The meeting also heard from Dr. John D. Millet, president of Miami University, Dr. Miller Up-ton, president of Beloit (Wis.) College, and Dr. John N. Stauffer of Wittenberg University.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CORREGIDOR MEMORIAL: The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing expenditure of $1.5 million as the U.S. share in making the Philippine island of Corregidor a World War II memorial.

House approval Tuesday was by voice vote.

Under the bill, the Philippines would put up a similar amount and would maintain the memorial.

DOMINICAN DEBATE: Three Democratic senators have demanded that the State Department permanently withhold recognition from the military junta that last week overthrew President Juan Bosch of the Dominican Republic.

The three, Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Wayne Morse of Oregon and Ernest Gruening of Alaska, also urged withholding of military aid to the new regime.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee plans to question John Bartlow Martin, U.S. ambassador to the Dominican Republic at the time of the coup, and Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for Latin America, at its first closed session Thursday.

TROOPS TO STAY: An authoritative source says the Kennedy administration has decided to leave the 3,500-man 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment in Germany.

Plans to return the regiment were revealed several weeks ago as part of a plan to cut back U.S. troops levels in Germany to the number on duty before the 1961 Berlin crisis. Some 22,000 of the 40,000 extra troops sent to Europe at that time have been withdrawn.

No reason was given for the reversal.

FREAR RESIGNS: Former Democratic Sen. J. Allen Frear Jr. of Delaware has resigned from the Securities and Exchange Commission. Although Frear, 60, has been ill a year, it was not known if this was the reason for his resignation.

Columbus Man Dies In 2-Car Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A two-car collision in southwestern Franklin County Tuesday night killed one person and critically injured two others.

The Highway Patrol said the accident occurred about 12 miles southwest of here at the Ohio 62-Stahl Road intersection.

Paul R. Metz, 47, of Columbus, a passenger in one of the vehicles, was dead on arrival at Mount Carmel Hospital.

In critical condition at the hospital were Larry G. Larimer, 16, of Grove City, driver of the car in which Metz was riding, and Geraldine Young, 52, of Columbus, driver of the other vehicle.

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Oather O'Nan is a 75-year-old widow and mother of former Police Chief Roy O'Nan. Today she's being cheered as a heroine who saved the life of Louis Truelsan, 74.

Truelsan was burned severely over his face, hands, arms and back late Tuesday when fire broke out in his house trailer behind Mrs. O'Nan's home.

Despite her heart condition, Mrs. O'Nan rushed into the smoke filled trailer when she spotted smoke, found Truelsan on the floor and began to drag him out. When his foot became caught behind the stove, she tipped the stove and went right on.

After getting Truelsan out, Mrs. O'Nan turned her garden hose on the burning structure.

Perry County Crash Is Fatal To Pair

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Two persons were killed Tuesday night and two others were injured in a collision involving two vehicles on Ohio 93 about five miles south of this Perry County community.

The Highway Patrol listed the victims as Verna Daugherty, 57, of Junction City and David Rush, 82, of Rt. 1, New Straitsville. Both were in separate cars.

Mrs. Daugherty's husband, James, 62, driver of one car, and Thomas J. Jordan, 70, of Rt. 1, New Straitsville, were injured. Both were removed to Good Samaritan Hospital in Zanesville.

Railroad Provides Visit with Past

The Dixiana Shay snorts importantly as it makes its way past giant redwoods.

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper By STEVE LIBBY

Seventy miles south of San Francisco, in California's Santa Cruz County, the nation's newest railroad has begun passenger service—a service which takes its passengers through the scenic redwoods country for a visit with the past.

The Roaring Camp and Big Trees Narrow-Gauge Railroad recently opened a two-mile round trip over mountain meadows to Roaring Camp and Henry Cowell Redwoods State Park, then through a redwoods forest to Big Trees Station.

There are stopover privileges for passengers who elect to picnic in the redwoods along the line whose sponsors call it "America's most backward railroad."

This tongue-in-cheek critique is used because the RC&BTNG RR, five years in the planning, has been carefully reconstructed as a replica of pioneer American railroading, with 80-year-old passenger cars and an historic steam engine—a rare reminder of the narrow-gauge railroads which once flourished all over the nation.

The engine, the Dixiana Shay, has had a romantic and varied history. She is one of the famous Shay type locomotives designed in 1872 for service on mining and logging railroads.

She served on half-a-dozen short-line railroads before coming west to California, in service on the famous Smoky Mountain Railroad in Tennessee, and for a little road headquartered at Dixiana, Va. That's where she was named.

The rails of the new line date back to the 1880's and the historic but long vanished Carson and Colorado Railway, and were shipped around Cape Horn on a sailing ship. Many an early-day pioneer, deperado and adventurer rode these very rails to the legendary mining camps at Tonopah, Goldfield, Candelaria, Bodie, and Cerro Gordo.

The cars for the new railroad came from the Nevada-California-Oregon Railway, and also date back to the late 19th century. They were familiar sights in such interesting little communities as Red Rock, Likely and Secret Valley.

The Roaring Camp & Big Trees Narrow Gauge Railroad is the beginning of a project currently underway—"Good Only to End of Track and Return," as the tickets read—in the redwood country which, when completed, will provide a six-and-one-half mile round trip from Felton Station (the railroad's headquarters) to the top of Bear Mountain and return.

Even this first-opened section of the line takes passengers through beautiful countryside in its salute to the pioneer days of the West when many a lonesome town owed its only contact with the outside world to a tiny steam locomotive and narrow-gauge rails.

Communists Await Full Italian Collapse

Nation in Trouble Politically and Economically

ROME (AP)—Italy is traveling a rocky road, both politically and economically. A resurgent Communist party is waiting patiently on the sidelines to take advantage of the situation.

For the present the party and its experienced leaders seem content to watch deteriorating conditions and save their big guns—strikes and riots—for the future.

With summer vacations over, the so-called stopgap government of Premier Giuseppe Leone has announced a semi-austerity program providing for cutbacks in government spending, reduction of imports, higher taxes on luxury items and other measures.

Said Leone in a recent speech: "We do not deny or ignore, that current problems are heavy and serious." He went on to exhort Italians not to lose faith in the government or the economy.

Italian politics was left in a turmoil by the 14-month, left-leaning government of Amintore Fanfani. The government was defeated last April in an election in which the Communists made an astonishing showing. The Reds polled 25 per cent of the vote.

Fanfani's Christian Democrats, who have governed Italy since World War II and once could count on half the voters, polled only 8 per cent. The rest of the ballots were split among six other parties.

During the same 14 months Italy's economic boom began to falter. Prices have been spiraling upward for months.

Some Italians, and foreign observers, blame circumstances as much as Fanfani for these price rises and other problem. Full employment, for the first time in Italy's history, and general prosperity have had inflationary effects.

Whatever the cause, politicians have taken little notice until Leone's recent speech.

Instead they have been debating the merits and demerits of Fanfani's experimental "opening to the left," the ideological formula under which he ran the government with the support of the country's bright pink Socialist party.

The Leone government was formed as a post-election stopgap to handle routine business until various parties, particularly the Christian Democrats and Socialists, could settle internal disputes and form some sort of working coalition.

Five months after the elections, the internal disputes are no nearer solution and efforts to resolve them are exhausting politicians who should be attending to national rather than party problems.

The major exception is the Communist party. It stands solidly behind veteran Palmiro Togliatti undivided by the Chinese-Soviet feud, and ready to make the most of the growing crisis.

Obscene Book Salesman To Receive Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Hamilton County Criminal Court jury convicted Louis Mazes, Cincinnati book store operator, today of possession of an obscene book in his store.

Judge Frank M. Gusweiler deferred passing sentence pending the filing of a motion for a new trial.

Mazes, charged with having the book for sale in his store, claimed he did not know the nature of it and that it was among books brought in by a distributor.

The World Today

By J. W. DAVIS (For James Marlow) Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A great American success story is being celebrated here this week.

Its 75th anniversary of the National Geographic, a magazine that many Americans have grown up with in their homes. Many others have whiled away apprehensive time reading it in doctors' offices.

The miracle of this success is that a slim, scholarly publication that started weakly in October 1888 has grown today to be a giant in circulation (3,535,000), fat with advertising and with never a compromise on principles or goals. The magazine goes to members of the National Geographic Society and is not sold on newsstands.

It's dismaying to think how many magazines once sturdy and flourishing, have folded their pages and silently stolen away.

The man credited with being the builder of the National Geographic Society and its magazine is Gilbert Hovey Grosvenor who, from 1899 to 1954 edited 660 issues of the magazine with more than 3,300 articles.

In a reminiscent narrative that features the diamond anniversary issue this month—the largest in the magazine's history—Dr. Grosvenor, now chairman of the society's Board of Trustees, tells of the early struggles and the advances through the years.

For example, even in the first, short-money days, Grosvenor laid down a policy that still holds—there would be no advertising of liquor, beer, wine, tobacco or patent medicines. He recalls: "I thought of geography in terms of the Greek root—geographia—a description of the world. It thus becomes the most catholic of subjects, universal in appeal and embracing nations, people, plants, animals, birds, fish."

$4.7 Million Given Cincy University

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati has received more than $4.7 million in gifts, grants and bequests but officials say the money has been earmarked for specific uses and cannot be spent on a general pay increase.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, UC president, reported on the gifts Tuesday at the monthly trustees' meeting.

Dr. Langsam said more than $3 million worth of grants came from the federal government, mostly for specified research. The only large bequest for salaries was $150,000 from an anonymous donor who wanted it spent on the salaries of basic science teachers in the College of Medicine.

Spears Ruled as Sane, Faces Lancaster Trial

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Frederick Spears, 26, of Lancaster accused of slaying two Fairfield County women and of assaulting another, as been declared sane and capable of standing trial.

A sanity hearing was held Tuesday in Fairfield County Common Pleas Court. Spears' trial in the assault case is scheduled to begin Oct. 21.

Here may lie the key to the geographics success:

"Long ago I evolved an editorial policy—

"One principle was absolute accuracy. Others required that each article be of permanent value and avoid partisanship and controversy."

"I also decided that no derogatory material would be printed about any country or people. The Geographic has always dealt in facts, not bias, rumor, or prejudice."

The Geographics leadership in photography, especially color photography, has been generally conceded.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt followed the course of World War II on National Geographic maps, mounted on rollers in a cabinet behind his White House desk.

Also, the society came to the aid of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was having trouble during the war in getting through the British reserve of Gen. Sir Alan F. Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff. Ike broke the ice by presenting to Sir Alan, an avid bird watcher and photographer, a copy of the Society's book of birds.

South Point Labor Accord Is Reached

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Agreement on a new two-year contract was announced jointly Tuesday by Local 3687, United Steelworkers Union, and officials of Allied Chemical Corp.'s nitrogen division plant at nearby South Point.

About 900 union members had gone on strike when their contract expired Sept. 30. The agreement announced Tuesday went into effect immediately and runs until Sept. 30, 1965.

Specific details of the agreement were not announced, but a joint announcement said it called for hourly wage increases for each year of the contract, cost of living provisions, an additional paid holiday each year and improved welfare benefits.

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Frederick Spears, 26, of Lancaster accused of slaying two Fairfield County women and of assaulting another, as been declared sane and capable of standing trial.

A sanity hearing was held Tuesday in Fairfield County Common Pleas Court. Spears' trial in the assault case is scheduled to begin Oct. 21.

Here may lie the key to the geographics success: "Long ago I evolved an editorial policy—"

"One principle was absolute accuracy. Others required that each article be of permanent value and avoid partisanship and controversy."

"I also decided that no derogatory material would be printed about any country or people. The Geographic has always dealt in facts, not bias, rumor, or prejudice."

The Geographics leadership in photography, especially color photography, has been generally conceded.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt followed the course of World War II on National Geographic maps, mounted on rollers in a cabinet behind his White House desk.

Also, the society came to the aid of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was having trouble during the war in getting through the British reserve of Gen. Sir Alan F. Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff. Ike broke the ice by presenting to Sir Alan, an avid bird watcher and photographer, a copy of the Society's book of birds.

A Navy pilot (top) attaches a "news-buoy" capsule to wing of his plane at Quonset Point, R. I. The capsule contains newspaper and periodicals. The capsule is dropped somewhere in the Atlantic, and a sailor (lower) boathooks it aboard a surfaced sub.

The new style features suits made from two matching cloths, with the jacket and waistcoat tailored in different fabric than the trousers.

South Point Labor Accord Is Reached

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Agreement on a new two-year contract was announced jointly Tuesday by Local 3687, United Steelworkers Union, and officials of Allied Chemical Corp.'s nitrogen division plant at nearby South Point.

About 900 union members had gone on strike when their contract expired Sept. 30. The agreement announced Tuesday went into effect immediately and runs until Sept. 30, 1965.

Specific details of the agreement were not announced, but a joint announcement said it called for hourly wage increases for each year of the contract, cost of living provisions, an additional paid holiday each year and improved welfare benefits.

Mob's 'Finger Man' Is Slapped in Jail

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP) — Frank Casino, reportedly named by Joseph Valachi as the "finger man" in a gangland slaying, was held in jail here for New York authorities.

Casino, 59, was arrested at his Beach Haven summer home Monday on a warrant accusing him of refusing to testify before a grand jury.

Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor of Queens of New York City said Casino is suspected of having knowledge of the slaying of Anthony (Little Augie) Pisano, Carfano, shot to death Sept. 25, 1959.

Casino was named in information given to the Justice Department by Valachi, a convict testifying before a Senate committee about the underworld organization known as Cosa Nostra.

Chamber Approves Budget for 1964

A budget for 1964 was adopted by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce directors when they met in regular session yesterday at Boyer's Restaurant.

The funds were allocated for regular Chamber functions and promotions for the coming year. Total appropriations amounted to $6,000.

A slate of director nominees as compiled by chairman Charles Schiebler's committee was presented. The Chamber membership will select seven of 14 candidates. Voting will be conducted by mail. Directors moved that a space should be provided on the ballots to provide for possible write-in candidates.

BARTON HOLL of Logan, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker for the "Meet the President Dinner" on Oct. 29 at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building. Chairman Dan Crabtree distributed tickets to be sold by all directors.

The dinner session will start at 6:30 p. m. Chamberman Holl is rated a topnotch speaker in Ohio circles. Organ music will be included in the dinner period.

In other business, the board regrettably accepted the resignation of Judge William Ammer as a director. A heavy traveling schedule and pressure of work were listed as his reasons for resigning. His post will be filled by Fiske O'Hara, an official at the local DuPont plant.

Plans are nearing completion for the Chamber's program on Fire Prevention Week this month. Chairman Richard Shaw reported that a fire truck will be stationed in the downtown area on Oct. 12. Appropriate literature on fire prevention also will be available.

Donald Colegrove of the Chamber's industrial relations committee again voiced the need for a brochure or other compiled information on areas and sites in this community which could be utilized for industrial development. Additional work on this suggestion is expected to come at a later date.

Chairman L. D. Varble reported satisfactory progress on the Business - Industry - Education Day scheduled in March. About 35 local firms and individuals have expressed an interest in taking part.

The chamber hopes all city and county school teachers will take part in the program. Additional guideline information on the project will be announced later.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of 1963. There are 90 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1780, the British officer, Maj. John Andre, was hanged by the United States as a spy. It was Andre who negotiated the surrender of West Point during the American Revolution.

On this date In 1804, England's entire population was mobilized to resist possible invasion by Napoleon Bonaparte's French armies.

In 1871, Mormon leader Brigham Young was arrested for polygamy.

In 1919, King Albert of Belgium arrived in the United States for a visit.

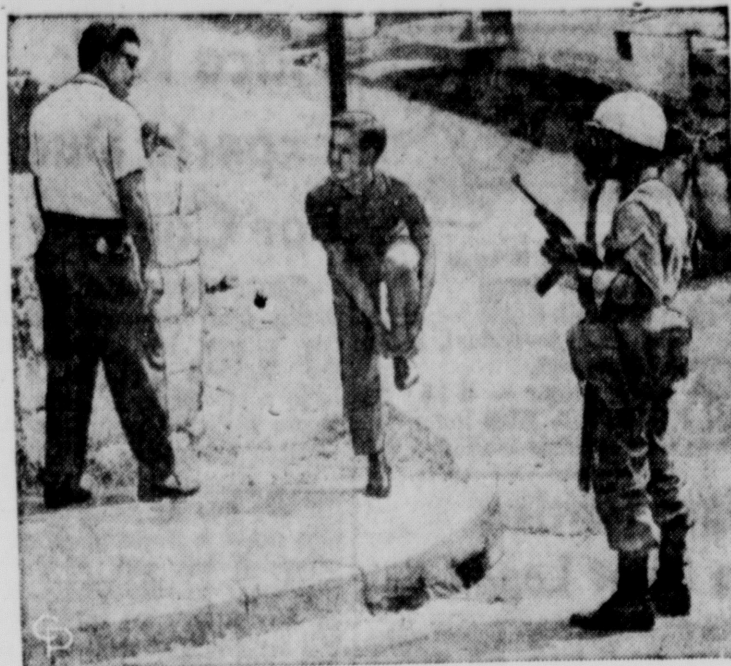

In 1941, the Germans launched an intensive drive against Moscow during World War II.

In 1955, the Rev. Simon Mont gomery became the first Negro minister of an all-white congregation at Old Mystic, Conn.

Ten years ago... The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the New York Yankees 3-2 in the third game of the 1953 World Series as right hander Carl Erskine fanned 14 to set a new series strikeout record.

Five years ago... Russia accused the United States and Britain of flouting the U.N. General Assembly by refusing to withdraw troops from Lebanon and Jordan.

One year ago... Secretary of State Dean Rusk told representatives of the Organization of American States that the United States was prepared to provide political leadership needed to block Communist inroads in the Western Hemisphere.

Anti-Digit Folk Win Point; It's: 7867-86845-93-24325

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — 7867-86845-93-24325!

Check the letters on your telephone dial and you'll find that this means:

"Stop until we check!"

This is the order that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. got Monday from the Public Utilities Commission, which ordered PT&T to halt further conversion of telephone numbers to digit dialing until further notice.

The unanimously approved order was issued on the complaint of a group which calls itself the Anti-Digit Dialing League.

The PUC moved after the phone company had announced it would convert numbers in the San Francisco exchange to all-numerals next month. The decision said that "...it appears that final determination of the issue" will take time beyond that.

At Several San Francisco hearings, the Anti-Digit Dialing League had pressed charges that by rearranging some codes, letter dialing would give up to five billion additional telephone numbers—more than enough for a phone for each person in the world.

The PT&T said: "Any delay in an orderly changeover to all numerical dialing brings us closer to a time when we will not have enough numbers available to serve the public."

The PUC ordered the utilities company to halt the renumbering series until it can be determined whether such a re-listing is necessary.

Chamber Approves Budget for 1964

A budget for 1964 was adopted by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce directors when they met in regular session yesterday at Boyer's Restaurant.

The funds were allocated for regular Chamber functions and promotions for the coming year. Total appropriations amounted to $6,000.

A slate of director nominees as compiled by chairman Charles Schieber's committee was presented. The Chamber membership will select seven of 14 candidates. Voting will be conducted by mail. Directors moved that a space should be provided on the ballots to provide for possible write-in candidates.

BARTON HOLL of Logan, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker for the "Meet the President Dinner" on Oct. 29 at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building. Chairman Dan Crabtree distributed tickets to be sold by all directors.

The dinner session will start at 6:30 p. m. Chamberman Holl is rated a top-notch speaker in Ohio circles. Organ music will be included in the dinner period.

In other business, the board regrettably accepted the resignation of Judge William Ammer as a director. A heavy traveling schedule and pressure of work were listed as his reasons for resigning. His post will be filled by Fiske O'Hara, an official at the local DuPont plant.

Plans are nearing completion for the Chamber's program on Fire Prevention Week this month. Chairman Richard Shaw reported that a fire truck will be stationed in the downtown area on Oct. 12. Appropriate literature on fire prevention also will be available.

Donald Colegrove of the Chamber's industrial relations committee again voiced the need for a brochure or other compiled information on areas and sites in this community which could be utilized for industrial development. Additional work on this suggestion is expected to come at a later date.

Chairman L. D. Varble reported satisfactory progress on the Business - Industry - Education Day scheduled in March. About 35 local firms and individuals have expressed an interest in taking part.

The chamber hopes all city and county school teachers will take part in the program. Additional guideline information on the project will be announced later.

Lulu Garners Quick Honors

Obscure Singer Rated Overnight Sensation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lulu's back in town, and what a difference!

She left last summer as Lulu Porter, a fairly obscure singer. Now she's an international celebrity.

Who's responsible? Contrary to printed reports and indignant congressmen, it wasn't Pierre Salinger, says Lulu.

The story was that the presidential press secretary caught Lulu's act at a Beverly Hills club and recommended her to represent the United States at the Polish International Song Festival.

This brought a blast from Rep. William Widnall, R-N.J., that the cultural exchange program had "fallen on evil days indeed" if the choice of artists was being made by "important administration officials who have no real experts in the arts."

Lulu had this to say:

"He (Salinger) came to see me perform and later said some nice things about my performance, also in the party was Pat McDermot (once Marilyn Monroe's press agent) who went to work for the U.S. Information Agency."

"I understand that later efforts had failed to get such names as Polly Bergen, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Sandra Church and Joan Baez to go to the festival. Pat McDermot suggested that we might send an unknown, and she mentioned me."

Lulu, who was working her way up to the better niteries, was ready and willing. With manager Jerry Fonarow, she took off for Warsaw.

Competing against the natives of 25 other countries, she was a sensation, winning the title of best singer at the festival.

Lulu, 22, has returned to appear on the Johnny Carson and Steve Allen television shows. She has her pick of recording contracts, television and supper club engagements. Not bad for a girl whose previous claim to fame was doing a belly dance in an upcoming film, "The Brass Bottle."

Negro Nominated A Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has nominated Spotswood W. Robinson, III, former dean of the Howard University Law School, to be U.S. district judge for the District of Columbia.

Robinson was selected to succeed the late James W. Morris and would be the first Negro to hold a federal judgeship in the nation's capital.

A member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, the 47-year-old Robinson lives in Richmond Va., where he was born.

Anti-Digit Folk Win Point; It's: 7867-86845-93-24325

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — 7867-86845-93-24325!

Check the letters on your telephone dial and you'll find that this means:

"Stop until we check!" This is the order that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. got Monday from the Public Utilities Commission, which ordered PT&T to halt further conversion of telephone numbers to digit dialing until further notice.

The unanimously approved order was issued on the complaint of a group which calls itself the Anti-Digit Dialing League.

The PUC moved after the phone company had announced it would convert numbers in the San Francisco exchange to all-numerals next month. The decision said that "...it appears that final determination of the issue" will take time beyond that.

At Several San Francisco hearings, the Anti-Digit Dialing League had pressed charges that by rearranging some codes, letter dialing would give up to five billion additional telephone numbers—more than enough for a phone for each person in the world.

The PT&T said: "Any delay in an orderly changeover to all numeral dialing brings us closer to a time when we will not have enough numbers available to serve the public."

The PUC ordered the utilities company to halt the renumbering series until it can be determined whether such a re-listing is necessary.

AP Guesspert Picks Winners On College Grid

OSU, Northwestern, Alabama, Texas, Navy Given Victory Nod

NEW YORK (AP)—The trouble in making the weekly college football selections is that not enough of the teams believe what they read. There were 14 such non-conformists last week but 40 others saw the light for a .741 average.

This week's picks:
Alabama over Vanderbilt: Joe Namath, Mike Fracchia & Co., should win this one while concentrating on the outcome of the World Series game.

Texas over Oklahoma State: The Longhorns want this one.

Northwestern over Illinois: Illinois is on the up-grade but so is Tom Myers, the Northwestern quarterback who already is regarded by many as the best in the land.

Navy over Michigan: Another game in which the quarterback may be the decisive factor. In this contest the person is Roger Staubach, the scrambling director of the Navy offense.

Georgia Tech over Louisiana State: This could easily go the other way, especially because it is being played in the Tigers' lair.

Southern California over Michigan State: They moved this game from Saturday afternoon to Friday night so that there would be no conflict with the World Series game. The irate Trojans will move the Big Teners just as easily.

Pittsburgh over California: Fred Mazurek is the answer to Chancellor Litchfield's suggestion to Coach Michelosen that the Panthers should play a more daring and entertaining type of football.

Mississippi over Houston: Without too much trouble.

Duke over Maryland: The game highlights the Tobacco Festival and the nation's television screens.

Penn State over Rice: Penn State has almost as much power and a lot more finesse than a year ago when it was the East's best.

Nebraska over Iowa State: The Cornhuskers veteran lineup includes Dennis Claridge, a quarterback who can do everything even to playing defense.

Ohio State over Indiana: The Buckeye line is too potent.

Arkansas over Texas Christian: The point is that Arkansas lost by a point last weekend and will be out for revenge.

Missouri over Idaho: Almost a walk.

Xavier (Ohio) over Cincinnati, Colorado over Kansas State, Minnesota over Army, Purdue over Notre Dame, Memphis State over Tulsa, Miami (Ohio) over Western Michigan.

Tigers Face Important Test Friday against Blue Lions

Friday is a big night for the Circleville High School football team.

The game with Washington C. H. marks the mid point of the season. It is the Circleville homecoming. The Blue Lions are traditional South Central Ohio League Rivals.

And according to the scouting

And What Did Alston Say To Houk?

NEW YORK (AP)—What did Walter Alston of the Dodger say to Manager Ralph Houk of the Yankees today, just before the World Series started?

"Good to see you Ralph," he said, "and the best of luck."

But was this what he was really thinking?

"Hah, good to see him. He's got Mantle healthy, and Maris healthy, and that damn infield and that outfield. You can't get a ball through the infield, and with that outfield you're lucky to get one base on a single. Then he has Howard catching, and he starts Whitey Ford in the first game. We may not get five runs all week."

And what does Houk say to Alston?

"Good to see you, Walter, and best of luck."

And is this what he really means?

"Luck, hah. He's got the greatest pitcher in the world, who needs luck? And that Wills and those Davis boys are liable to run us crazy. I've been reading all week about how they don't hit. With that pitching who has to hit? And they hit .251, anyway, and what did we hit? A robust .252, that's what. One percentage point, and you read in the papers that we're big monsters picking on the Little Leaguers."

reports the invaders from the Fayette County seat will be the best team the Tigers have faced this year.

Although the Blue Lions finished last season with a 2-6-2 record and have won only twice in four starts this year, they are long on experience.

THEY lost two lettermen from last year's team. They have 14 returning, including starters at every position.

Quarterback Bill Marting is calling the signals again for the Court House 11. In the backfield are three members of the winning South Central Ohio League 880-yard relay team. They are halfbacks Craig Knisely and Allen Griffiths and fullback Dale Lynch.

The Circleville scouting report on the Blue Lions emphasizes the balance and speed of the backfield.

Tiger Coach Paul Starr noted that last year the defense could concentrate on stopping All-SCO back John Thomas, who has graduated. But this year the entire backfield poses a threat.

On the strength of their returning lettermen, the Blue Lions have been considered a top threat in the league by opposing coaches.

Their early season schedule has been one of the toughest faced by any league team, which could account for the 2-2 record.

IN THE FIRST game they faced Xenia Central and were defeated 60-0. They came back against Chillicothe to post a 14-6 win and then were topped by Hamilton Taft, 7-0, in the final pre-league tune up tilt.

Last week they opened SCO league play with a decisive 26-6 win over Franklin Heights.

And coach Paul Starr feels the Blue Lions will be at their best when they come to Circleville.

"Everybody figures they are going to get a piece of us this year," the Tiger mentor said. "So far the teams we have faced have really ben fird up."

The Tigers handed the Washington leads a 52-0 defeat last year—the worst beating a Washington squad has ever suffered at the hands of a Circleville team.

Starr plans nothing different for the game Friday.

The Tiger running game thus far has been paced by the dazzling speed of Hodge Dade and the bull like rushes of fullback Duke Fyffe.

JIM MCCOSKEY, operating at the halfback slot opposite Dade, has also broken loose for some long gainers as the starting big three have shown good potential at various times.

Quarterbacking will again be divided between Dave Bass and Tom Tootle, with Tootle probably getting the starting role.

And up front of that foursome is the interior line of John Hatcher, center; Joe List and Tom Copland guards; Howard Fletcher and Mike Ramey, tackles.

The interior line usually comes in for more criticism and less praise from the average football fan than any of the other positions on the team.

They carry the brunt of the attack and on their ability rests the success of the backfield. A missed block on the line can mean the difference sometimes between a touchdown or a loss on a play.

Fletcher and Copland provide the bulk of the experience in the line. Both are seniors.

MIKE RAMEY, a sophomore, is the youngest member of the group John Hatcher, a senior center, lettered last year, while senior Joe List, one of the hustlingest players on the team according to Starr, rounds out the group.

At ends seniors John Pharr and Bob Purcell will probably get the nod.

Starr feels the next three games for the Tigers will be the toughest. After Washington C. H., they face Wilmington and on the following Friday they travel to Hillsboro.

High School Football Player Injured, Dies

COKATO, Minn. (AP)—A 16-year-old Cokato High School football player died Tuesday night without regaining consciousness after being injured in a game last Friday.

He was Jeffrey Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Peterson.

Ron Nelson, head football coach, said Jeffrey left the field after making a tackle, then fell down. He was taken to a hospital. A doctor said the youth suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

Place Kick Experts Due For Contest

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 70,000 fans expected for Saturday night's key clash between the Steelers and the Browns have a chance to argue over who is pro football's best place kicker —left-footed-Lou or Lou the Toe?

Lou Michaels, who kicks from the left side for the Steelers and also plays a bruising game as a defensive left end, is the solid challenger to Cleveland's 39-year-old Lou Groza, the National Football League's all-time high scorer with 928 points.

Michaels, 26, set a record with 26 field goals a year ago when he was the league's second highest scorer with 110 points. Groza had 75.

Jim Brown, Cleveland's amazing fullback, is topping the scoring this season with 36 points on six touchdowns. Michaels is second with 27 points on six extra points and seven field goals out of 10 attempts. Groza has 26 points on 11 extra points and five three-pointers in eight attempts.

Michaels always has played exceptionally well against the Browns. He was mad at former Coach Paul Brown, who released his brother, Walt Michaels, a long time Cleveland linebacker, a couple of seasons ago.

Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels hit 51 home runs for Danville in the Carolina League in 1956.

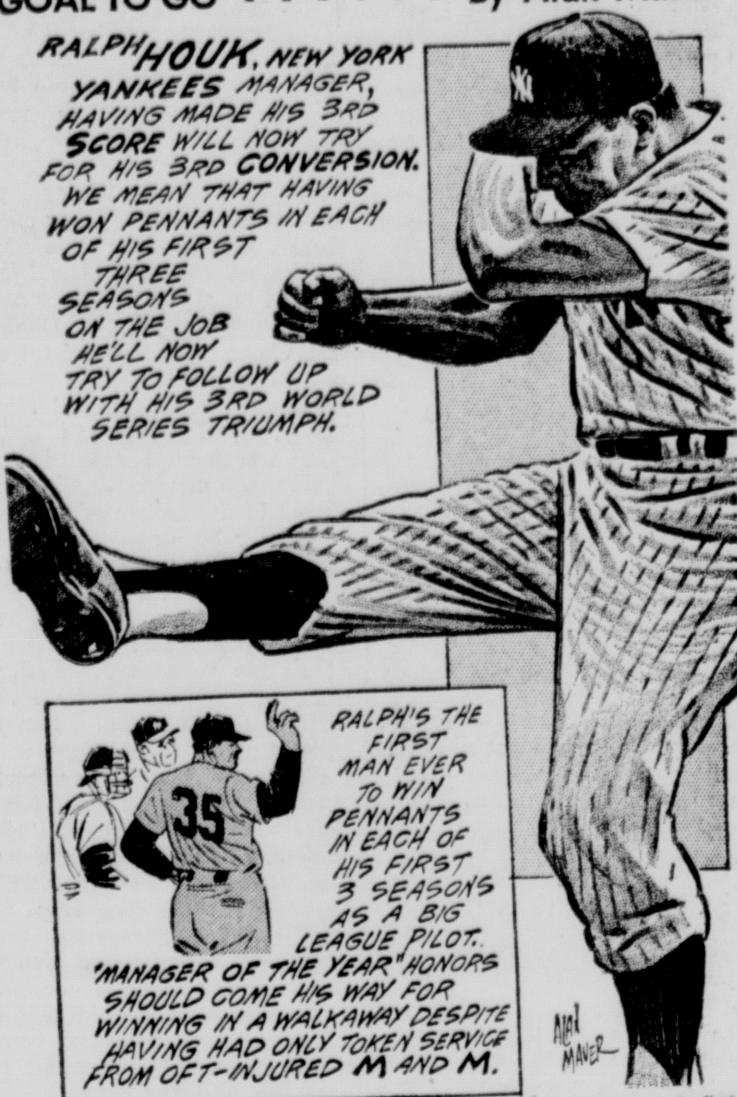

Dartmouth tackle Dick King is spending the summer working as a grave-digger in Mills, Mass.

Experts Believe Pitching To Hold Key in '63 Series

Whitey Ford

Sandy Koufax

NEW YORK (AP) — Pounds of extra World Series pressure weighed heavily on the shoulders of opening game pitchers Whitey Ford of New York and Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles today because of unusual importance attached to the first game of the 1963 post-season classic.

Most experts agree pitching will be more of a dominating factor in this series than in any inter-league October clash since World War II. They point to the comparatively light team batting averages, .252 for the Yankees to .251 for the Dodgers, and the presence of only three .300 hitters—Tommy Davis, Maury Wills and Mickey Mantle—in the lineups.

A contributory factor is the determination of both managers to stick with three starting pitchers regardless of the length of the series. This means that should the series go seven games, as have all since 1955 except the 1959 and 1961 series, Ford and Koufax will probably face each other three times.

Thus the winner of the first Ford-Koufax duel — before some 70,000 at Yankee Stadium—would have a vast psychological as well as an actual edge.

The odds favored Ford at 6-5, with the Yankees a 7½-to-5 favorite to gain their seventh triumph in eight World Series meetings with the Dodgers. The perennial American League champions have a 20-7 record in Series play, compared to 2-8 for the Dodgers.

Both clubs presented predominantly right-handed line-ups against the left-handed slants of Ford and Koufax.

The only southpaw swingers, aside from Ford, in the Yankee batting order, were shortstop Tony Kubek, first baseman Joe Pepitone and right fielder Roger Maris. Switch hitters Mickey Mantle and Tommy Tresh naturally batted right-handed.

At a late hour Tuesday night, Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers had just about decided to keep Ken McMullen, the injured rookie third baseman, on the bench, playing Dick Tracewski at second and switching Jim Gilliam to third. McMullen pulled a hamstring muscle in his right leg last week.

Alston promoted Willie Davis, the hottest hitting Dodger in September, from seventh to third spot in the batting order, behind Maury Wills and Gilliam with Tommy Davis, the National League's leading hitter, in the cleanup spot.

Bill Skowron, the ex-Yankee, was at first base, batting sixth behind the right-handed hitting Frank Howard. He was followed by Tracewski, John Roseboro and Koufax.

The Yankees had the same lineup that played all season when Mantle and Maris were in there. Mickey batted fourth behind Tresh and in front of Maris. Kubek and Bobby Richardson batted one, two with Elston Howard, Pepitone, Clete Boyer and Ford comprising the bottom half of the order.

Trojan Tagged Lineman of Week

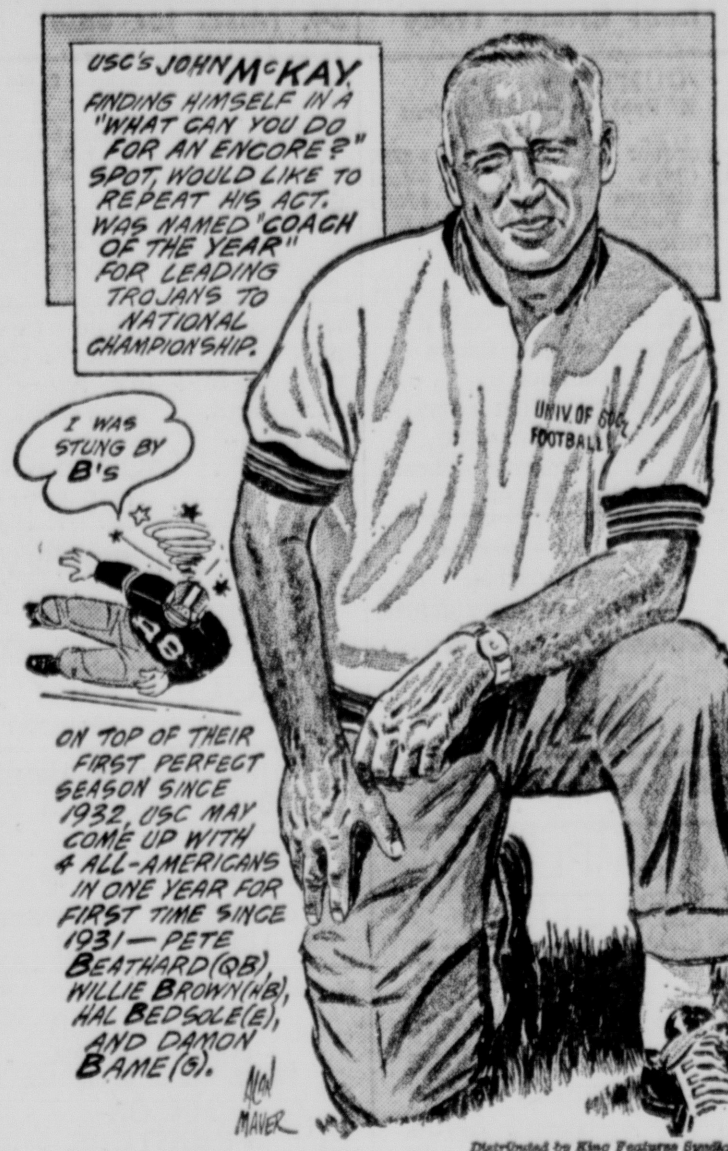

NEW YORK (AP)—It was hotter than blazes in Memorial Coliseum at Los Angeles last Saturday where Oklahoma regained national prominence in college football by upsetting Southern California 17-12.

But the 105-degree temperature didn't faze Damon Bame, Southern Cal's All-America guard. The Trojan's first defeat in 13 games couldn't be traced to him. His outstanding performance earned him the nod today as the Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

Bame turned in a superb game, one of the best defensive games in USC records. He made five unassisted tackles, nine aided tackles and got assists on 12 others. Coach John McKay could have used some more Bames.

St. Louis-Baltimore is the only American League franchise to lose more than 5,000 games since 1901.

Japanese Clouter

Wins Ring Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Hiroyuki Ebihara's first-round knockout of flyweight champion Pone King-clutch earned the young Japanese clouter the "Fighter of the Month" award from Ring Magazine today.

The dethroned Pone of Thailand was dropped to No. 2 contender in the 112-pound division, a notch behind Italy's Salvatore Burrini.

Two changes were made in the heavyweight division's top ten. Eddie Machen, former top-ranking contender who had been out of action for more than a year because of mental illness, resumed activity with a knockout of Ollie Wilson. Machen, of Los Angeles, was given the No. 8 ranking.

Experts Believe Pitching To Hold Key in '63 Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Pounds of extra World Series pressure weighed heavily on the shoulders of opening game pitchers Whitey Ford of New York and Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles today because of unusual importance attached to the first game of the 1963 post-season classic.

Most experts agree pitching will be more of a dominating factor in this series than in any inter-league October clash since World War II. They point to the comparatively light team batting averages, .253 for the Yankees to .251 for the Dodgers, and the presence of only three .300 hitters—Tommy Davis, Maury Wills and Mickey Mantle—in the lineups.

A contributory factor is the determination of both managers to stick with three starting pitchers regardless of the length of the series. This means that should the series go seven games, as have all since 1955 except the 1959 and 1961 series, Ford and Koufax will probably face each other three times.

Thus the winner of the first Ford-Koufax duel — before some 70,000 at Yankee Stadium—would have a vast psychological as well as an actual edge.

The odds favored Ford at 6-5, with the Yankees a 7½-to-5 favorite to gain their seventh triumph in eight World Series meetings with the Dodgers. The perennial American League champions have a 20-7 record in Series play, compared to 2-8 for the Dodgers.

Both clubs presented predominantly right-handed line-ups against the left-handed slants of Ford and Koufax.

The only southpaw swingers, aside from Ford, in the Yankee batting order, were shortstop Tony Kubek, first baseman Joe Pepitone and right fielder Roger Maris. Switch hitters Mickey Mantle and Tommy Tresh naturally batted right-handed.

At a late hour Tuesday night, Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers had just about decided to keep Ken McMullen, the injured rookie third baseman, on the bench, playing Dick Tracewski at second and switching Jim Gilliam to third. McMullen pulled a hamstring muscle in his right leg last week.

Alston promoted Willie Davis, the hottest hitting Dodger in September, from seventh to third spot in the batting order, behind Maury Wills and Gilliam with Tommy Davis, the National League's leading hitter, in the cleanup spot.

Bill Skowron, the ex-Yankee, was at first base, batting sixth behind the right-handed hitting Frank Howard. He was followed by Tracewski, John Roseboro and Koufax.

The Yankees had the same lineup that played all season when Mantle and Maris were in there. Mickey batted fourth behind Tresh and in front of Maris. Kubek and Bobby Richardson batted one, two with Elston Howard, Pepitone, Clete Boyer and Ford comprising the bottom half of the order.

Trojan Tagged Lineman of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—It was hotter than blazes in Memorial Coliseum at Los Angeles last Saturday where Oklahoma regained national prominence in college football by upsetting Southern California 17-12.

But the 105-degree temperature didn't faze Damon Bame, Southern Cal's All-America guard. The Trojans' first defeat in 13 games couldn't be traced to him. His outstanding performance earned him the nod today as the Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

Bame turned in a superb game, one of the best defensive games in USC records. He made five unassisted tackles, nine aided tackles and got assists on 12 others. Coach John McKay could have used some more Bames.

St. Louis-Baltimore is the only American League franchise to lose more than 5,000 games since 1901.

Pilot of Playoff Kings

Mysteriously Laid Low
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rollie Hemslley, who managed the Indianapolis Indians to the regular season and playoff championships of the International League, was released by the Indians Tuesday.

No explanation for the dismissal was given. Hemslley, 56, was a major league catcher for 20 years and has been a manager or coach since 1949.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exercising, emotional upset or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain-relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 16 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

SURVEY of 1962 hunting casualties, recently released, offers these reminders:

POOR EYESIGHT ACCOUNTED FOR MANY "INTENTIONAL" CASUALTIES.

THE GUN SAFETY BEING OFF ACCOUNTED FOR MORE THAN HALF. ALSO HUNTER CARRYING FINGER ON TRIGGER WITH NO INTENTION OF FIRING.

BRIGHT COLORED CLOTHING TENDED TO REDUCE CASUALTIES.

YOUNG HUNTERS 19 OR UNDER, ACCOUNTED FOR ONE-THIRD, POINTING OUT NEED FOR TRAINING.

NOVEMBER IS THE WORST MONTH.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK — CBS full, five coverage of the Senate investigations subcommittee hearings provide without doubt the most gripping television on the networks for a long time. The other network summaries of highlights do not begin to capture the impact of the shocking story.

Joseph Valachi ex-burglar, ex narcotics dealer, confessed accomplice in cold blooded murder and defector from a secret Sicilian organization, appears to have an almost embarrassed reluctance to use that new tag, "Cosa Nostra", for what used to be called the Mafia or the Black Hand Society.

He has, however, an elephants memory for names, dates and conversational and by the end of Tuesday's testimony had reached only the early 1930s. It was a level and thus even more shocking—account of life inside a nationwide crime syndicate run by feudal overlords.

It is hard to follow his testimony. Valachi's diction is muddy. His sentences are a mixture of gang slang and formal legal phrases. He often mispronounces words. Most difficult of all is his cast of characters. Most of them have two names, used interchangeably. It is hard to remember the other name of Nick the Thief, or of Dutch Augie and I never did find out the real name of Chick Ninety Nine.

Valachi, who looks like an elderly and respectable businessman, told his incredible tale in a matter-of-fact voice. Even the senators who had heard the story before looked flabbergasted. One interrupted a complicated story about a killing contract to ask Valachi if all this seemed to him "as natural as breathing. The witness calmly agreed it did.

Valachi's description of the initiation ceremonies of the organization sounded like kid stuff. It involved promising to "live by the gun and the knife and to die by the gun and the knife, taking, quite literally, a blood oath of secrecy and fealty. But the witness, who seemed to be enjoying the sensation he was creating, pointed out "This is my doom—this is the promise I'm breaking."

It was certainly exciting and frightening to watch but one wonders what good this public testimony will do. Valachi has been talking to the authorities for over a year. Not much seems to have happened.

CBS new "Chronicle" series, which occasionally will take over the "CBS Reports" Wednesday night spot (7:30-8:30 EDT) bows in tonight. Initial program is called "The French. They Are So French," and will take a look at the race-through French eyes.

NBC's "Espionage" series, based on real-life stories and filmed in Europe also makes its debut tonight (9-10) with a World War II story about the Norwegian underground.

Surgery Faces Mantle After Series Play

NEW YORK (AP)—It's "fairly definite" that Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year outfielder who has undergone operations ranging from his toes to his tonsils, will be forced into still another right after the World Series.

Official confirmation of the need for an operation on Mantle—for removal of loose cartilage in his left leg—came from Dr. Sidney Gaynor, only hours before the 31-year-old slugger was scheduled to lead the Yankees onto the field for the Series' opener against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

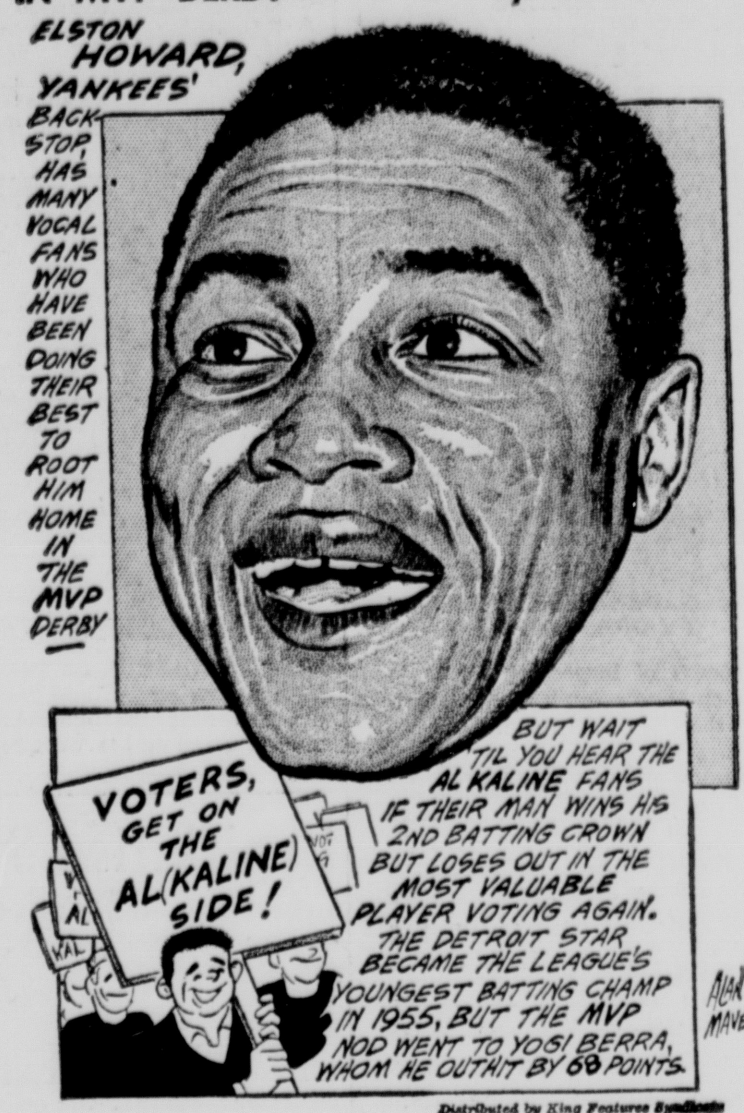

Dr. Gaynor said that if Mantle underwent surgery immediately after the Series, he would have three months in which to recuperate before spring training and "we would expect him to be back in top physical condition by then."

Mantle, who has undergone a series of operations during an injury-plagued 13-year major league career, discussed the damaged leg in the Yankee dressing room before taking his final workout.

"If it doesn't get any better, it'll have to be operated on," admitted Mantle. "It's been getting stronger day by day, but as it stands now, we think it's going to be operated on."

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — CBS full, live coverage of the Senate investigations subcommittee hearings provide without doubt the most gripping television on the networks for a long time. The other network summaries of highlights do not begin to capture the impact of the shocking story.

Joseph Valachi ex-burglar, ex-narcotics dealer, confessed accomplice in cold blooded murder and defector from a secret Sicilian organization, appears to have an almost embarrassed reluctance to use that new tag, "Cosa Nostra", for what used to be called the Mafia or the Black Hand Society.

He has, however, an elephants memory for names, dates and conversational and by the end of Tuesday's testimony had reached only the early 1930s. It was a level and thus even more shocking — account of life inside a nationwide crime syndicate run by feudal overlords.

It is hard to follow his testimony. Valachi's diction is muddy. His sentences are a mixture of gang slang and formal legal phrases. He often mispronounces words. Most difficult of all is his cast of characters. Most of them have two names, used interchangeably. It is hard to remember the other name of Nick the Thief, or of Dutch Augie and I never did find out the real name of Chick Ninety Nine.

Valachi, who looks like an elderly and respectable businessman, told his incredible tale in a matter-of-fact voice. Even the senators who had heard the story before looked flabbergasted. One interrupted a complicated story about a killing contract to ask Valachi if all this seemed to him "as natural as breathing. The witness calmly agreed it did.

Valachi's description of the initiation ceremonies of the organization sounded like kid stuff. It involved promising to "live by the gun and the knife and to die by the gun and the knife, taking, quite literally, a blood oath of secrecy and fealty. But the witness, who seemed to be enjoying the sensation he was creating, pointed out "This is my doom—this is the promise I'm breaking."

It was certainly exciting and frightening to watch but one wonders what good this public testimony will do. Valachi has been talking to the authorities for over a year. Not much seems to have happened.

CBS new "Chronicle" series, which occasionally will take over the "CBS Reports" Wednesday night spot (7:30-8:30 EDT) bows in tonight. Initial program is called "The French, They Are So French," and will take a look at the race-through French eyes.

NBC's "Espionage" series, based on real-life stories and filmed in Europe also makes its debut tonight (9-10) with a World War II story about the Norwegian underground.

Surgery Faces Mantle After Series Play

NEW YORK (AP)—It's "fairly definite" that Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year outfielder who has undergone operations ranging from his toes to his tonsils, will be forced into still another right after the World Series.

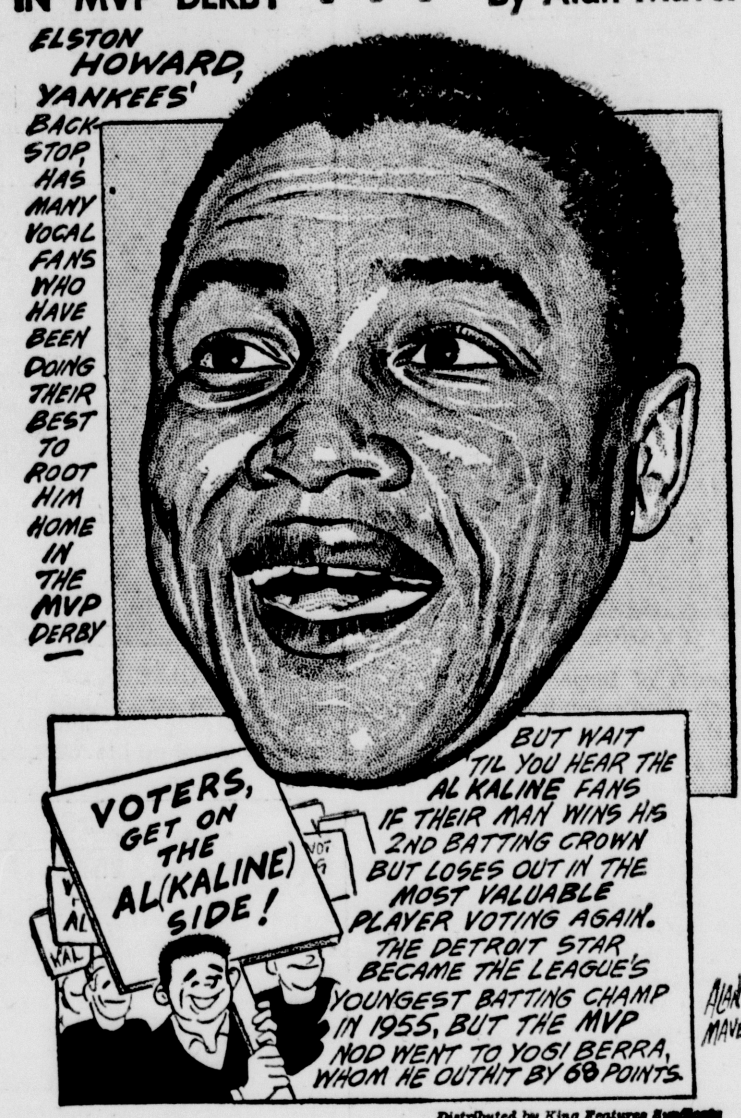

Official confirmation of the need for an operation on Mantle—for removal of loose cartilage in his left leg—came from Dr. Sidney Gaynor, only hours before the 31-year-old slugger was scheduled to lead the Yankees onto the field for the Series' opener against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Dr. Gaynor said that if Mantle underwent surgery immediately after the Series, he would have three months in which to recuperate before spring training and "we would expect him to be back in top physical condition by then."

Mantle, who has undergone a series of operations during an injury-plagued 13-year major league career, discussed the damaged leg in the Yankee dressing room before taking his final workout.

"If it doesn't get any better, it'll have to be operated on," admitted Mantle. "It's been getting stronger day by day, but as it stands now, we think it's going to be operated on."

State Examiner's Report

Delinquent Tax Lists Now Published as Code Requires

The first public advertisement of delinquent personal property and classified taxes can be attributed to the audit completed last November by George Collet, state examiner.

Collet's report pointed out that County Auditor Maryne Rhoades was aware of the provision contained in a statute for advertisement of delinquent lists and gave no excuse or reason for failure to comply with the law except "it has never been done before."

As in many cases of the examiners findings, the situation has been corrected and delinquent lists are now published in accordance with the Revised Code.

Falling under sharp criticism by the examiner was the manner in which the county's bond register has been kept. His report indicated the register and its condition "were inherited" by the present auditor. He noted several instances in which the prosecuting attorney's certification was absent from the official records.

THE PROPER method of maintaining this book has been discussed with County Auditor Rhoades and "we are confident the next issue of bonds will be properly entered," Collet's report stated.

Collet did not agree with Auditor Rhoades in employing one full time deputy to maintain the appropriation ledger and to issue purchase order requisitions. He commented that "this method has a tendency to slow operation of the office and the county due to the fact no other person in the office can issue a purchase order number in the absence of the one deputy charged with maintenance of this operation."

He also noted that on numerous occasions, purchases have been made "well in advance of obtaining a purchase order."

On payment of bills by the county auditor's office, Collet noted in his report that for the most part bills had been processed satisfactorily. The bill file was also found to be in a satisfactory condition and all bills were found on file in numerical order which made "the audit less time consuming."

However, the report objected to numerous occasions when bills were paid without invoices, sometimes on duplicate invoices, allowing the possibility of duplicate payment. The report was also in disagreement with the payment of bills for legal advertising, which had been paid without having a proof of publication submitted with the invoice.

The state examiner criticized the office for the manner in which claims were paid for reimbursement of personal expenses by both elected officials and other county employees. Individual cases are pointed out in the audit of particular departments.

COLLET'S report noted that there is no provision for allowing expenses of any kind to the deputy sealer of weights and measures. The position was held by Ray Anderson at the time of the audit. The examiner's report stated that the deputy sealer was paid a salary of $100 a month plus 10 cents a mile for the use of his personal automobile while in the performance of his official duties. "Furthermore, in checking the appointment certificate, we find no mention contained regarding the allowance of any expenses."

According to Mrs. Rhoades, Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer was contacted concerning the expense allowance for the deputy sealer and he interpreted the statute "to include the mileage allowances."

Sheriff Speaker At Lions Meet

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler was guest speaker at yesterday's regular meeting of the Circleville Lions Club. The dinner session was at the Wardell Party Home.

Sheriff Spangler presented a talk on the many and varied duties of the sheriff's department.

Harry Styers, Lions' president, presided at the business meeting which followed the dinner and talk. Plans were discussed relative to projects in which the Lions Club will participate during Pumpkin Show.

W. E. Reichelderfer, float committee chairman, asked all members to report 7 p. m. Thursday at Wes Edstrom's garage, E. Main St., to help construct the parade float.

The next meeting will be Oct. 15, the day preceding the opening of Pumpkin Show. Members will work in the club's concession booth following the meeting.

Freight Train Diesel Fire Doused by CFD

Southbound Unit Halted Near High St. Crossing; Two Crewmen Ditch

Fire in a diesel unit of a southbound Norfolk & Western freight, severe enough to cause two operators to leap from the moving train, brought Circleville Firemen running at double time early today.

The blaze, apparently caused by an overflow of fuel oil, was detected by train personnel at about 3 a. m. when the unit reached a point two miles north of Circleville. The cause was attributed to a broken fuel line.

Firemen said flames were spurted from all over the engine and from oil spilled on the ground. The lead portion of the southbound managed to halt near the crossing at W. High St. Local firefighters took over at this point to bring the blaze under control.

According to Lt. Fred Howell, the train conductor and fireman leaped from the burning diesel in the vicinity of Ted Lewis Park. He said no injuries resulted, either from the jump or the flames.

THE TIME freight, composed of 71 cars, was pulled by two diesels. The fire broke out in the second one. The operator in the lead unit was able to stop the train at the High St. crossing, firemen said.

A member of the train crew had radioed ahead to the N&W tower here that all efforts would be made to stop the freight near the W. Main St. crossing. The tower operator in turn called the fire department which rushed to Main St. The firemen had little difficulty spotting the burning diesel one block north of High St.

Although damage was considered heavy, the loss was not immediately determined. The damaged diesel was pulled off to a siding here.

Crewmen uncoupled the lead engine and moved it about 100 feet away. This prevented damage to the unit and allowed firemen easy access to the one that was burning.

Lt. Howell said the diesel carried a 1,600-gallon fuel tank. He said about 750 gallons of fuel remained after the fire was extinguished.

Making the run with Howell were Firemen Donald Edgington and Martin Garner. They were at the scene 45 minutes.

'Bon Voyage' Is Title For Penitentiary Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bit of wishful thinking is evident in the title chosen by inmates at Ohio Penitentiary for their annual Christmas show. The production will be called "Bon Voyage '63" and the producers say the inmate audience will be taken "on a worldwide cruise via the enchanting road of dreams."

Grass Blaze Doused

Circleville Firemen were summoned at 3 p. m. yesterday to douse a grass fire near the American Legion Home on Route 23. Cause of the blaze was not determined. No loss was reported.

NEW STANDARDS OF PERFORMANCE — The performance gains of the 1964 Cadillac (above) result from a new engine and a new transmission, while the comfort and convenience story is highlighted by the first fully automatic year around air conditioning system ever offered in an automobile. Eleven models make up the '64 line. Clifton Motor Sales, S. Court St., will show the new Cadillac beginning tomorrow.

Legislative Study Groups Are Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, has announced the following appointments to three legislative study committees:

State Examiner's Report

Delinquent Tax Lists Now Published as Code Requires

The first public advertisement of delinquent personal property and classified taxes can be attributed to the audit completed last November by George Collet, state examiner.

Collet's report pointed out that County Auditor Marvin Rhoades was aware of the provision contained in a statute for advertisement of delinquent lists and gave no excuse or reason for failure to comply with the law except "it has never been done before."

As in many cases of the examiners findings, the situation has been corrected and delinquent lists are now published in accordance with the Revised Code.

Falling under sharp criticism by the examiner was the manner in which the county's bond register has been kept. His report indicated the register and its condition "were inherited" by the present auditor. He noted several instances in which the prosecuting attorney's certification was absent from the official records.

THE PROPER method of maintaining this book has been discussed with County Auditor Rhoades and "we are confident the next issue of bonds will be properly entered," Collet's report stated.

Collet did not agree with Auditor Rhoades in employing one full time deputy to maintain the appropriation ledger and to issue purchase order requisitions. He commented that "this method has a tendency to slow operation of the office and the county due to the fact no other person in the office can issue a purchase order number in the absence of the one deputy charged with maintenance of this operation."

He also noted that on numerous occasions, purchases have been made "well in advance of obtaining a purchase order."

On payment of bills by the county auditor's office, Collet noted in his report that for the most part bills had been processed satisfactorily. The bill file was also found to be in a satisfactory condition and all bills were found on file in numerical order which made "the audit less time consuming."

However, the report objected to numerous occasions when bills were paid without invoices, sometimes on duplicate invoices, allowing the possibility of duplicate payment. The report was also in disagreement with the payment of bills for legal advertising, which had been paid without having a proof of publication submitted with the invoice.

The state examiner criticized the office for the manner in which claims were paid for reimbursement of personal expenses by both elected officials and other county employees. Individual cases are pointed out in the audit of particular departments.

COLLET'S report noted that there is no provision for allowing expenses of any kind to the deputy sealer of weights and measures. The position was held by Ray Anderson at the time of the audit.

The examiner's report stated that the deputy sealer was paid a salary of $100 a month plus 10 cents a mile for the use of his personal automobile while in the performance of his official duties. "Furthermore, in checking the appointment certificate, we find no mention contained regarding the allowance of any expenses."

According to Mrs. Rhoades, Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer was contacted concerning the expense allowance for the deputy sealer and he interpreted the statute "to include the mileage allowances."

Sheriff Speaker At Lions Meet

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler was guest speaker at yesterday's regular meeting of the Circleville Lions Club. The dinner session was at the Wardell Party Home.

Sheriff Spangler presented a talk on the many and varied duties of the sheriff's department.

Harry Styers, Lions' president, presided at the business meeting which followed the dinner and talk. Plans were discussed relative to projects in which the Lions Club will participate during Pumpkin Show.

W. E. Reichelderfer, float committee chairman, asked all members to report 7 p. m. Thursday at Wes Edstrom's garage, E. Main St., to help construct the parade float.

The next meeting will be Oct. 15, the day preceding the opening of Pumpkin Show Members will work in the club's concession booth following the meeting.

Freight Train Diesel Fire Doused by CFD

Southbound Unit Halted Near High St. Crossing; Two Crewmen Ditch

Fire in a diesel unit of a southbound Norfolk & Western freight, severe enough to cause two operators to leap from the moving train, brought Circleville Firemen running at double time early today.

The blaze, apparently caused by an overflow of fuel oil, was detected by train personnel at about 3 a. m. when the unit reached a point two miles north of Circleville. The cause was attributed to a broken fuel line.

Firemen said flames were spouting from all over the engine and from oil spilled on the ground. The lead portion of the southbound managed to halt near the crossing at W. High St. Local firefighters took over at this point to bring the blaze under control.

According to Lt. Fred Howell, the train conductor and fireman leaped from the burning diesel in the vicinity of Ted Lewis Park. He said no injuries resulted, either from the jump or the flames.

THE TIME freight, composed of 71 cars, was pulled by two diesels. The fire broke out in the second one. The operator in the lead unit was able to stop the train at the High St. crossing, firemen said.

A member of the train crew had radioed ahead to the N&W tower here that all efforts would be made to stop the Freight near the W. Main St. crossing. The tower operator in turn called the fire department which rushed to Main St. The firemen had little difficulty spotting the burning diesel one block north of High St.

Although damage was considered heavy, the loss was not immediately determined. The damaged diesel was pulled off to a siding here.

Crewmen uncoupled the lead engine and moved it about 100 feet away. This prevented damage to the unit and allowed firemen easy access to the one that was burning.

Lt. Howell said the diesel carried a 1,600-gallon fuel tank. He said about 750 gallons of fuel remained after the fire was extinguished.

Making the run with Howell were Firemen Donald Edgington and Martin Garner. They were at the scene 45 minutes.

'Bon Voyage' Is Title For Penitentiary Show

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bit of wishful thinking is evident in the title chosen by inmates at Ohio Penitentiary for their annual Christmas show. The production will be called "Bon Voyage '63" and the producers say the inmate audience will be taken "on a worldwide cruise via the enchanting road of dreams."

process of inspecting all 14 lodges on Ohio's South Central District of the Ohio Elks Assn.

His inspection of the Circleville lodge will be one of the highlights of the four-day celebration here.

MORGAN said Wednesday, Oct. 23, will be earmarked as reunion day for lodge members. On Thursday, there will be an afternoon tea for ladies while that evening will be reserved for an anniversary banquet for Elks and their ladies.

The banquet will feature Father Richard Connelly of Washington C. H. as master of ceremonies and Ted Lewis, Circleville's most famous son, as principal speaker. Friday has been set aside as an "organization open house" to which all civic groups will be invited to attend.

NEW STANDARDS OF PERFORMANCE — The performance gains of the 1964 Cadillac (above) result from a new engine and a new transmission, while the comfort and convenience story is highlighted by the first fully automatic year around air conditioning system ever offered in an automobile. Eleven models make up the '64 line. Clifton Motor Sales, S. Court St., will show the new Cadillac beginning tomorrow.
